Handbook on Peace Education Gavriel Salomon,Ed Cairns,2011-02-25 This handbook encompasses a range of disciplines that underlie the field of peace education and provides the rationales for the ways it is actually carried out The discipline is a composite of contributions from a variety of disciplines ranging from social psychology to philosophy and from communication to political science That is peace education is an applied subject which is practiced in differing ways but must always be firmly based on a range of established empirical disciplines The volume is structured around contributions from expert scholars in various fields that underpin peace education plus contributions from experts in applying peace education in a range of settings all complemented by chapters which deal with issues related to research and evaluation of peace education

From Conflict Resolution to Reconciliation Yaacov Bar-Siman-Tov,2004-01-08 This volume represents an important new step forward in the fields of conflict resolution and peace studies Its essays argue that while conflict resolution is well equipped to bring about temporary settlements and brief periods of peace in volatile situations conventional conflict resolution techniques are not capable of building long term stability Instead the authors contend practitioners of conflict resolution need to focus more on reconciliation the restoration of confidence friendship and harmony between rivals than on mere conflict resolution Whereas traditional conflict resolution has focused primarily on halting quarrels with agreements between leaders on each side of a conflict reconciliation techniques shift the focus in two ways First they take more of a grassroots approach building agreement among the members of rival communities not only between leaders Second reconciliation takes a long term view of dispute resolution While the authors acknowledge that the role of traditional conflict resolution is important in stopping violence and tension they argue that in order to achieve stable peace negotiators and practitioners of conflict resolution must focus much more on what is to be done after an agreement among leaders is reached

Circles on the Mountain Janet M. Powers,Marica Prozo,2016-07-25 This book combines scholarly research with first person interviews to examine the current state of women in Bosnia twenty years after the Balkan War their emotional recovery their economic situation and their prospects for the future It describes how two of the worst issues affecting Bosnian women today are domestic violence and trafficking Both are being addressed successfully by Bosnian women s organizations applying skills developed earlier in coping with rape and war trauma It demonstrates how these organizations shoulder a societal load that various levels of government have no will or budget to address and shows that in parts of central Bosnia feelings still run high between Christians and Muslims The authors argue that where ethnic hostility persists in rural areas successful peace building should include ethnic song and dance as well as dialog groups

Building a Peaceful Society Laura L. Finley,2011-07-01 To truly move toward a more peaceful society it is imperative that peace education better address structural and institutional violence This requires that it be integrated into institutions outside of schools and universities Doing so will be challenging as many of these institutions are structured on domination and control not on partnership and shared power In particular U S criminal justice social services and prevention programs and sport have tended to be dominator modeled This book offers analysis and suggestions for overcoming these challenges and for integrating peace education into important social institutions Creativity will be one of the most useful assets in moving peace education from schools to other institutions This book argues that with creative visioning collaboration and implementation peace education can be integrated into the most challenging situations and provide hope for holistic changes in our society
