Tenth Grade Reading Comprehension 4: Larry the Llama

Once upon a time, in a far-off land, there lived a llama named Larry. He was a curious and adventurous llama, always getting into trouble. One day, while out for a walk, Larry stumbled upon a hole in the ground. Being the curious llama that he was, Larry decided to investigate the hole.

As he stuck his head into the hole, he was suddenly sucked in by a powerful vacuum. The next thing he knew, he was flying through the air and crash-landed on a bed of hay. Looking around, he realized that he had been transported to a farm. As he was trying to figure out how to get back home, he saw a group of chickens gathered around a bucket of feed.

Larry thought to himself, "I'm a llama, and llamas don't eat chicken feed, but I'm so hungry. I guess I'll just have to give it a try." So, he went over to the bucket and started chowing down. Suddenly, the chickens started to panic and run around like crazy.

"What's going on?" Larry thought. "It's just chicken feed." Little did he know that the feed was laced with a powerful laxative. As the day went on, Larry felt his stomach rumbling and knew he was in trouble. He desperately tried to find a bathroom, but he was on a farm, and there was no indoor plumbing.

Eventually, Larry had to relieve himself in the open field, which was embarrassing and humiliating for him. As he walked away, he heard the chickens laughing and clucking. He vowed never to eat chicken feed again.

Questions:

1. Who is the main character of the story?
2. What did Larry find while out for a walk?
3. What happened to Larry after he ate the chicken feed?
4. Where did Larry have to relieve himself?
5. What did Larry vow never to do again?

Summary Question:

What lesson did Larry learn from his misadventure on the farm?
