Radicalizing Lawrence Robert Burden, 2000 In this study of D H Lawrence and critical theory Robert Burden pays particular attention to the critical formations that underpin the reception history of the main novels including the much maligned leadership novels because strong readings have always contested the meaning and significance of Lawrence and because there has been a persistent reluctance to approach his writing through post structuralist theory This study demonstrates in some detail that once Lawrence's texts are the objects of the newer critical paradigms their principles of coherence are understood differently and that older notions of textual unity are displaced by aesthetic structures of degrees of generic and linguistic destabilization This enables a radicalizing of Lawrence's fiction by drawing out its deconstructive effects on his myth making and essentialist notions of the self The sexual identities represented in the fiction are read as experiments or thought adventures as Lawrence himself characterized his work The different approaches to Lawrence's writing in this study lead to a radical reassessment of his relationship to Modernism especially in the light of the more elastic concept of Modernism in recent discussion and one which traditional

Lawrence* Stefania Michelucci,2002-04-03 Originally published in Italian as L orizzonte mobile spazio e luoghi nella narrativa di D H Lawrence in 1998 this critical study analyzes the work of D H Lawrence in light of new theories about space and location or place and community This approach is especially useful in examining Lawrence as place and space are central aspects of all of his work The introductory chapter explains the theoretical premises drawing extensively from anthropology especially insofar as the relationship between culture and nature or community and place are concerned This chapter also offers theories based on semiotics sociological concerns and recent research in human geography and environmentalism Succeeding chapters analyze functional aspects of place and space in D H Lawrence s work Lawrence s major novels and stories provide the main focus of this book but attention is also paid to lesser known texts both fiction and nonfiction This work provides a new approach to studies on D H Lawrence opening up new insights for both scholars and students alike D.H. Dialogism Vs Solipsism Mansour Khelifa,2016 Research Paper postgraduate from the year 2015 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature language English abstract Departing from the belief that humanity has been perverted by idealism Lawrence engages in a lifelong struggle in order to save modern society from decay and madness Throughout his work he tries to draw our attention to empirical experience as opposed to abstract theorising and awaken our sensuous mode of being in distinct polarisation with our mental consciousness He likes to point out the many marvels of the living world For Lawrence humanity s salvation depends on among other things the healthy physical relationship between man and woman In The Woman Who

Rode Away Lawrence dramatises the relation between two diametrically opposed cultures the Western and the Amerindian The story of the woman who escaped from her ranch at once highlights and subverts the preconceived ideas about the Red Indians savage 48 culture and cult Yet in filigree the narrator of the story subtly arouses the reader s willing suspension of disbelief and awe by conferring respectability on the white woman s self sacrifice for the sake of the Red Indians sun In a masterly tour de force Lawrence uses this highly dramatised narrative to serve his own overarching assertion that Western civilisation as a universal ideal has no future The White Man s Burden as an imperialist predicament has turned the world into a nightmarish place prone to global warfare and strife The only escape from this deadly situation seems to lie in the dialectical interchange with other different cultures different but not inferior which might vitally contaminate and even rejuvenate decadent Western civilisation

Lawrence and the Paradoxes of Psychic Life Barbara Ann Schapiro,1999-07-29 Contributing to the debate about D H Lawrence s relationship with and fictional portrayal of women this book discusses how the dynamic tensions of his art dramatically reenact the competing forces of psychic and relational life In her examination of Sons and Lovers The Rainbow Women in Love and various short stories Schapiro discusses how Lawrence s best works reveal a continual struggle to recognize and be recognized by the other as an independent subject Drawing on Jessica Benjamin s psychoanalytic theory of intersubjectivity she also demonstrates how a breakdown of balanced subject subject relations in his texts gives rise to defensive polarities of gender and of domination and submission
