Improving Adolescent Literacy Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, 2004 To help future teachers learn to infuse literacy instruction into all content areas, these AUTHORS present a rich panoply of engaging instructional strategies that research has shown to be effective for improving reading and writing in middle and secondary school students. After discussing common questions asked by content area teachers, a full chapter is devoted to each of eight strategies: anticipatory activities, read alouds, shared reading, questioning, notetaking, notemaking, graphic organizers, vocabulary instruction, writing to learn, and reciprocal teaching. Coupling discussions with examples from the AUTHOR's own research in a diverse urban secondary school, Features a common structure for presenting each strategy: 1. scenario of a teacher using the strategy, 2. rationale for the strategy and its supporting research, and 3. descriptions of how the strategy works and authentic examples of the strategy in use. Additionally, in order to meet the challenge of today's inclusive multicultural classrooms, the book presents only those strategies that have been proven effective with all learners, including those for whom English is not their first language. Using Children's Literature Across the Curriculum provides teachers with a guide to using multilayered texts to facilitate students' attainment of critical literacy. It is designed to be a supplemental text to guide teachers in designing literacy instruction. The instructional sequence includes collaborative inquiry activities across the curriculum to extend each theme to math, science, technology, and social studies. Teachers are shown how to incorporate family literacy with a component entitled Home School.

Connections and to differentiate instruction for individual learners with a section entitled On Your Own Activities The theme concludes with a critical literacy activity that applies the content knowledge of the theme with collaborative inquiry A unique feature of the handbook is the emphasis on performance based assessment with each instructional sequence containing two rubrics for the teacher to implement The instructional sequences are meant as models for teachers to use in developing their own themes in order to facilitate critical literacy These models can be adjusted to fit the reading level of the students as teachers become more familiar with the text s structure and their students needs Thinking Maps as Tools for Multiple Modes of Understanding David Nelson Hyerle,1993 Classroom Notes Plus ,2002
