MONITORS

1. Make sure the screen is large enough for adequate visibility based on task performed. Smaller units will make it difficult to read characters and larger units may require excessive space.
2. The angle, tilt and height should be easily adjustable.
3. If multiple monitors are used, enough space and clearance are provided for them. The monitor that is used most should be in front of the employee.
4. Provide a docking station for laptop computers so the monitor can be placed in the best possible location.
