Treagust, Chi-Yan Tsui, 2013-02-01 This new publication in the Models and Modeling in Science Education series synthesizes a wealth of international research on using multiple representations in biology education and aims for a coherent framework in using them to improve higher order learning Addressing a major gap in the literature the volume proposes a theoretical model for advancing biology educators notions of how multiple external representations MERs such as analogies metaphors and visualizations can best be harnessed for improving teaching and learning in biology at all pedagogical levels The content tackles the conceptual and linguistic difficulties of learning biology at each level macro micro sub micro and symbolic illustrating how MERs can be used in teaching across these levels and in various combinations as well as in differing contexts and topic areas The strategies outlined will help students reasoning and problem solving skills enhance their ability to construct mental models and internal representations and ultimately will assist in increasing public understanding of biology related issues a key goal in today's world of pressing concerns over societal problems about food environment energy and health The book concludes by highlighting important aspects of research in biological education in the post genomic information age BSCS Biology, 1997 An Introduction to Genetic Engineering Desmond S. T.
