Conflict Resolution Lesson Plans:

Tools for Conflict Resolution Ellen M. O'Keefe, Mary Catherine Stewart, 2004 Have you been searching for a way to resolve conflict that doesn't involve a series of ten or more steps? Do you think that perhaps a key to conflict resolution must come from within? How can teachers and pre-service teachers help their students learn and use strategies for conflict resolution? Tools for Conflict Resolution is a practical method for teaching conflict resolution skills to students in grades K-12. Conflict is a part of everyone's life. It is the authors' belief that if each student is given tools for handling conflict and these tools are used each time conflict arises, that soon students become proficient conflict managers. This book begins with a chapter which introduces Peter Senge's five disciplines: Personal Mastery, Mental Models, Shared Vision, Team Building, and Systems Thinking. After reading this chapter, the reader is able to embrace the five disciplines and begin practicing the adult level. As teachers, we teach from who we are. The rest of the book is filled with actual lesson plans which are directly tied to the Multiple Intelligences Theory and are developmentally appropriate for students. Case studies, role plays, skits, literature, songs, and cooperative learning activities are the primary instructional methods used to teach students conflict resolution skills. An annotated bibliography is included to assist teachers in extending lessons. These lessons may be taught during Social Studies as a unit on character education or could be used during a guidance class. Conflict Management Training Activities Don L. Sorenson, 1994 Help your middle and high school students learn to communicate and cooperate with each other. Through these experiential activities, students will become skillful in communicating, trusting, working together, and managing conflicts. Contains reproducible activities. Conflict Resolution in the Classroom Workbook Samantha K. Jones-Woodard, 2012-06-01 This workbook was designed to assist teachers by providing strategies, activities, and lesson plans for implementing conflict resolution skills in the pre-kindergarten and elementary classroom. It can be tailored to fit the needs of each individual classroom and learning style. Talk it Out Barbara Porro, 1996 Describes the six-step conflict resolution process called Talk It Out, developed by educator Barbara Porro to teach students to solve their own real-life problems such as teasing, cheating, hitting, and others, and includes lesson plans, scripts, and other resource tools. Teaching About International Conflict and Peace Merry M. Merryfield, Richard C. Remy, 1995-03-30 Designed especially for pre-service teachers, this book links substantive current scholarship on major topics in the management of international conflict with exemplary instructional methods in social studies education. Through vignettes and case studies of actual classroom practice, the reader learns from experienced teachers how they integrate different instructional methods to achieve content goals. The book contains an appendix on resources that provides additional information on organizations, instructional materials, computer networks, and other scholarly work that can help teachers improve their instruction on international conflict management. Teaching About International Conflict and Peace can make a significant difference in preparing social studies teachers to help their students acquire knowledge and understanding of how the peoples of the world have dealt with together Lessons are designed to help students learn and become equipped to understand and implement conflict and peacemaking theory skills and strategies Students will learn some theory and be encouraged to develop their own theories for why we are interested in learning about new strategies for problem solving and they will participate in lessons that will teach a specific process to use for problem solving and peacemaking as individuals in relationship with others and as mediators Making Things Right provides activities that build student understanding of the mediation process and gives students a chance to practice the process through roleplay This training will enable students to develop practical skills that will help them respond constructively to conflicts in many areas of their own lives as well as help others Punishment for misbehavior causes resentment to grow and what appears as evil intent is a consequence of that resentment Punishment damages relationship at least a little and sometimes a lot We have discovered that the most effective way to respond to misbehavior is to gain the cooperation of each person involved it is rare that misbehavior involves only one person then to sit down with them and help them solve the problem Responding this way transforms an otherwise destructive event into a teaching and learning situation for everyone involved and builds relationship Personal experience has shown that students kindergarten and above can understand and respond constructively students grade four and above can readily understand and use these concepts in their own interpersonal conflicts and as mediators Roxanne used this curriculum for many years with her 8th grade students and with parents Many have used this curriculum to train high school students All teachers make some adaptations to best use it with their audience Creativity and Collaborative Learning Jacqueline S.
