Boat People Vietnamiens Vaillant Barbara Vaillant, 2016 Boat people Vietnamiens Barbara Vaillant, 2013-05-01 30 avril 1975 les forces communistes du Nord Vietnam s'emparent de Saigon la capitale du Sud Commence alors ce qui constituera le plus grand exode de l'histoire du pays Plus de 800000 r'fugi's de la mer entass's sur des bateaux de fortune empruntent des chemins d'exil multiples et p'rieux Beaucoup y perdent la vie Aujourd'hui que sont devenus ces r'fugi's Entre Etats Unis France et Vietnam l'auteur est all'e leur rencontre et a partag'e leur quotidien leurs p'occupations et surtout leur souvenirs Voices of Vietnamese Boat People Mary Terrell Cargill, Jade Quang Huynh, 2015-11-04 On April 30 1975 the Hanoi government of North Vietnam took control over the South South Vietnamese particularly intellectuals and those thought to have been associated with the previous regime underwent terrible punishment persecution and re education Seeking their freedom thousands of South Vietnamese took to the sea in rickety boats often with few supplies and faced the dangers of nature pirates and starvation While the sea and its danger claimed many lives those who made it to the refugee camps still faced struggle and hardships in their quest for freedom Here are collected the narratives of nineteen men and women who survived the ordeal of escape by sea Today they live in the United States as students professors entrepreneurs scientists and craftspeople who have chosen to tell the stories of their struggles and their triumph Each narrative is accompanied by biographical information Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Boat People Carina Hoang, 2011 The years 1975 to 1996 were witness to the largest mass migration in modern history with more than a million people leaving their war torn homeland Vietnam in search of safety Forces migrations are usually fraught with danger and even hazard as the displaced people negotiate mountains deserts and oceans in all kinds of weather What was unique about the Vietnam Exodus was that the only route for escape for over a million people was by sea across open water and so the only way was by boat Subsequently this group of refugees has become known the world over as the boat people Most of the escape boats has been built as river craft plying trade on inland waterways They were not designed to stand up to the rigours of open water travel across the South China Sea and often simply fell apart in conditions more challenging than a medium swell For this reason alone many thousands perished but others succumbed to starvation dehydration and cold blooded attacks by Thai pirates One in three boat people never completed their journey Those who did survive it have become a diaspora of Vietnamese people making new lives for themselves in many countries around the world This beautiful book by Carina Hoang portrays just a handful of experiences of members of this new diaspora the perilous sea journey the time spent in their temporary island camps as refuges and their final journey to their new adopted homelands It is a testimony to the human spirit They piled on top of one another in wooden boats men women and children So desperate to escape their war torn home more than a million people would risk everything to tackle the high seas in search of safe haven Many never made it to land Those who did endured unimaginable horrors Told simply in their own words Boat People gives voice to some of the survivors of the Vietnamese exodus the largest mass migration in modern history The West Australian
