While the Mediterranean is often considered a distinct unified space recent scholarship on the early modern history of the sea has suggested that this perspective is essentially a Western one devised from the vantage point of imperial power that historically patrolled the region's seas and controlled its ports. By contrast for the peoples of its southern shores the Mediterranean was polymorphous shifting with the economic and seafaring exigencies of the moment. Nonetheless by the nineteenth century the idea of a monolithic Mediterranean had either been absorbed by or imposed on the populations of the region. In French Mediterraneans editors Patricia M. E. Lorcin and Todd Shepard offer a collection of scholarship that reveals the important French element in the nineteenth and twentieth century creation of the singular Mediterranean. These essays provide a critical study of space and movement through new approaches to think about the maps, migrations and margins of the sea in the French imperial and transnational context. By reconceptualizing the Mediterranean this volume illuminates the diversity of connections between places and polities that rarely fit models of nation state allegiances or preordained geographies. Culture and Eschatology Peter C. Phan, 1985 Among the twentieth century Orthodox theologians Paul Evdokimov 1901-1970 has without doubt achieved a position of preeminence. Born in St Petersburg and emigrated to Paris in 1923 Evdokimov was educated at the Sorbonne and Aix-en-Provence and taught at the Institut Saint-Serge until his death in 1970. He was very active in the ecumenical movement especially in the World Council of Churches. He was also the official Orthodox observer at the Second Vatican Council. This book the first full length English study of Evdokimov's theology concentrates on culture eschatology and iconography three central pillars of the Evdokimovian theological edifice. According to Evdokimov everything in human culture must be viewed in light of the End the already realized and yet to come eschatological fulfillment in Jesus Christ. The symbol and embodiment of this eschatology is the icon which makes present and participates in the transfigured reality of the Kingdom of God
