Davies, 2012-06-09 Emigrating Beyond Earth puts space colonization into the context of human evolution Rather than focusing on the technologies and strategies needed to colonize space the authors examine the human and societal reasons for space colonization They make space colonization seem like a natural step by demonstrating that if we continue the human species 4 million year old legacy of adaptation to difficult new environments The authors present many examples from the history of human expansion into new environments including two amazing tales of human colonization the prehistoric settlement of the upper Arctic around 5 000 years ago and the colonization of the Pacific islands around 3 000 years ago which show that space exploration is no more about rockets

C. Lopes,2010-12 Volcanoes Philosophy of Mind Edward Feser,2006-10 In this lively introduction to the philosophy of mind important questions are tackled with clear explanations of all the theories of mind from the classic accounts of Descartes and Aquinas to the developments in computing and cognitive science The Oxford Handbook of Cognitive Archaeology ,2024-03-12 Cognitive Archaeology is a relatively young though fast growing discipline The intellectual heart of cognitive archaeology is archaeology the discipline that investigates the only direct evidence of the actions and decisions of prehistoric people Its theories and methods are an eclectic mix of psychological neuroscientific paleoneurological philosophical anthropological ethnographic comparative aesthetic and experimental theories methods and models united only by their focus on cognition The Oxford Handbook of Cognitive Archaeology is a landmark publication showcasing the theories methods and accomplishments of archaeologists who investigate the human mind including its evolutionary development its ideation thoughts and beliefs and its very nature through material forms The volume encompasses the wide spectrum of the discipline showcasing contributions from more than 50 established and emerging scholars from Europe Africa Asia Australia and the Americas Prominent among these are contributions that discuss the epistemological frameworks of both the evolutionary and ideational approaches and the leading theories that ground interpretations Significantly the majority of chapters deliver substantive contributions that analyze specific examples of material culture from the oldest known stone tools to ceramic and rock art traditions of the recent millennium These examples include the gamut of methods and techniques including typology replication studies changes opératoires neuroarchaeology ethnographic comparison and the direct historical approach In addition the book begins with retrospective essays by several of the pioneers of cognitive archaeology presenting a broad range of state of the art investigations into cognitive abilities tackling thorny issues like the cognitive status of Neandertals and concluding with speculative essays about the future of an archaeology of mind and of the mind itself
