few decades However tightening vehicle efficiency and emissions regulations and increasing demand for onboard electrical power means that higher voltages in the form of supplemental 48 V subsystems may soon be nearing production as the most cost effective way to meet regulations The displacement of high wattage loads to more efficient 48 V networks is expected to be the next step in the development of a new generation of mild hybrid vehicles In addition to improved fuel economy and reduced emissions 48 V systems could potentially save costs on new electrical features and help better address the emerging needs of future drivers Challenges to 48 V system implementation remain leading to discussions by experts from leading car makers and suppliers on the need for an international 48 V standard Initial steps toward a proposed standard have already been taken So the consensus of global forecasts suggests that 48 V mild hybrids will soon come to dominate the market Compared with 200 600 V full hybrid and battery electric vehicles the lower voltage approach avoids the need for high cost safety features and large battery packs Mathematics Teaching in the Middle School ,2009-08 Everyday Mathematics
