

A romantic couple is shown in a close embrace on a rooftop. The woman, with long dark hair, is smiling and looking down. The man, with short dark hair, is leaning over her, his face partially visible as he looks down. They are both wearing light-colored shirts. In the background, a city skyline is visible under a warm, golden light, suggesting sunset or sunrise. The overall mood is intimate and romantic.

Brilliant, funny, sweet and heartbreaking. Climax is a great love story and a highly enjoyable read! George has really taken romance to a new level with this series.

Wilderness and Paradise in Christian Thought George H. Williams,2016-11-01 Paradise or wasteland the wilderness has always been a challenge to Westerners Wilderness and Paradise in Christian Thought traces the exciting theme of the quest for the wilderness both physical and metaphysical to create a new and important perspective for understanding Christian civilization With a wealth of knowledge a renowned historian presents the biblical understanding of the religious and ethical significance of the desert and how this understanding has influenced later Christian history and culture Dr Williams specifically applies the paradise theme to the university today and shows the continuing vitality of this ancient concept a story map that helps them see all the different components of their story where these components are going and perhaps most importantly what's missing. The book simplifies Aristotle's elements of good writing and that each story should have a beginning, a middle, and an end into easily applicable concepts that will help writers improve their craft. The author helps readers strengthen their work by teaching them how to focus on one aspect of their story at a time, including forming stories and developing ideas, building strong structures, creating vibrant characters, and structuring scenes and transitions. Thought-provoking questions help writers more objectively assess their story's strengths and weaknesses so they may write the story they want to tell.
