Teachers' Guide to Keystone Primary Set Laura Zirbes,1927 Resource Efficiency and Climate Change United Nations Environment Programme. International Resource Panel,2021-01-12 The International Resource Panel IRP was established to provide independent coherent and authoritative scientific assessments on the use of natural resources and their environmental impacts over the full life cycle The Panel aims to contribute to a better understanding of how to decouple economic growth from environmental degradation while enhancing well being The Secretariat is hosted by the United Nations Environment Programme IRP assessments demonstrate the opportunities for governments businesses and wider society to work together to create and implement policies that ultimately lead to sustainable resource management including through better planning technological innovation and strategic incentives and investments Materials are vital to modern society but their production is an important source of greenhouse gases Emissions from material production are now comparable to those from agriculture forestry and land use change combined yet they have received much less attention from the climate policy community The IPR authors propose looking beyond energy efficiency to reduce global carbon footprint This report was developed by the IRP in response to a request from the Group of 7 It conducts a rigorous assessment of the contribution of material efficiency to GHG abatement strategies More concretely it assesses the potential reduction of GHG emissions from material efficiency strategies applied in residential buildings and light duty vehicles and reviews policies that address these strategies The IRP modelling results show that increasing material efficiency can help enhance efforts in moving towards the 1.5°C target set by the Paris Agreement Page 4 of cover Creating a Climate for Change Susanne C. Moser,Lisa Dilling,2007-12-10 The need for effective communication public outreach and education to increase support for policy collective action and behaviour change is ever present and is perhaps most pressing in the context of anthropogenic climate change This book is the first to take a comprehensive look at communication and social change specifically targeted to climate change It is a unique collection of ideas examining the challenges associated with communicating climate change in order to facilitate societal response It offers well founded practical suggestions on how to communicate climate change and how to approach related social change more effectively The contributors of this book come from a diverse range of backgrounds from government and academia to non governmental and civic sectors of society The book is accessibly written and any specialized terminology is explained It will be of great interest to academic researchers and professionals in climate change environmental policy science communication psychology sociology and geography
