SUPPORT AND MOVEMENT

CHAPTER# 04

STUDYFORHOME.COM

Q.1: Define: (i) irritability (ii) movement (iii) stimulusAns: Irritability:

The cells of an organism have a living material, protoplasm, which is sensitive, due to the sensitive nature it possesses a special property called irritability. It means it irritates when there is a change in its environment.

Movement:

Due to irritability the living organism take some action to reduce its irritation these actions are called movement. We can say that movement is a response shown by living organism toward stimuli.

Stimulus:

The change in the environment takes place due to some factors these factors are called stimulus (stimuli:p).

Q.2: How do plants respond to stimuli?

Ans: All living organisms have the property of locomotion due to nutrients, shelter and reproduction mainly plants are sessile while animals are usually motile therefore they respond to stimuli in different ways. The plant responds to stimuli by adjusting the rate of growth and osmotic condition while responding to these stimuli by changing their position either towards or away from stimuli.

Q.3: Give an example of the movement at the cellular level.

Ans: The movement can also occur at the cellular level, like cyclosis in a cell or the movement of chromosomes towards their respective poles during cell division etc.

Q.4: Define the types of movement on the basis of stimuli.

Ans: On the basis of stimuli there are two types of movement:

- (i) Autonomic or Spontaneous Movement: It is due to internal stimuli.
Example: Cramps due to involuntarily release of Ca^{++} ions.
- (ii) Paratonic or Induce Movement: It is due to external stimuli.
Example: Reflex action.
