

The book cover features a collage of biological and environmental imagery. In the upper left, a view of Earth from space shows the Americas. Below this, a large school of orange fish swims in clear blue water. In the foreground, there is a vibrant yellow coral reef. A blue, translucent, grid-like structure with circular patterns, resembling a petri dish or a microscopic view, is positioned over the coral. In the bottom right corner, a large, stylized blue DNA double helix is visible. The title 'Concepts in Biology' is prominently displayed in the upper right, with 'Fourteenth Edition' written below it.
