The Conceptual Foundations of Contemporary Relativity Theory John Cowperthwaite Graves, 1971 The central conceptual idea of the contemporary theory of general relativity or geometrodynamics is the identification of matter with the structure of space time No entities foreign to space time like masses charges or independent fields are needed and physics thus becomes identical with the geometry of space time This idea implies a philosophical description of the universe that is monistic and organic characterized by an all encompassing interdependence of events Moreover it is an idea with deep roots in the history of philosophy For these reasons the author of this important study strives to clarify these philosophical and historical issues before proceeding to the details of the physical theory of geometrodynamics Physics Richard Wolfson,1987 Subject Guide to Books in Print,1991 Foundations of Modern Global Seismology Charles J.
