

Awakening the Will

Principles and Processes in Adult Learning

How do adults learn? What is the task of the adult educator in adult education? What can adults do to take charge of their learning process?

Learning means change and transformation. But in order to learn, argues Coenraad van Houten, we must first awaken our will. True adult education, he says, enables our spiritual ego to accomplish this. He describes the forms in which learning can be meaningfully structured, and offers advice and ideas to help overcome specific learning blockages.

This book regards the business of adult education as a full profession, and it provides a theoretical and practical basis for its true task: an awakening of the will.

Coenraad Van Houten was born in the Netherlands. After studying Chemistry, Economics and 'Social Pedagogy', he lived and worked in Indonesia, Hong Kong and Britain as a manager in business, as a consultant, and as the director of the Centre for Social Development (which he co-founded). He has developed specialist programmes and seminars on adult education, 'destiny learning' and the path of spiritual research, and presently advises organizations on training programmes. He is the author of two books and the co-founder of the New Adult Learning Movement.

A STUDENT'S PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION WILLIAM KELLEY WRIGHT,1922 The Flaming Sword ,1911 Zongmi on Chan Jeffrey L. Broughton,2009-05-14 Japanese Zen often implies that textual learning gakumon in Buddhism and personal experience taiken in Zen are separate but the career and writings of the Chinese Tang dynasty Chan master Guifeng Zongmi 780 841 undermine this division For the first time in English Jeffrey Broughton presents an annotated translation of Zongmi s magnum opus the Chan Prolegomenon along with translations of his Chan Letter and Chan Notes The Chan Prolegomenon persuasively argues that Chan axiom realizations are identical to the teachings embedded in canonical word and that one who transmits Chan must use the sutras and treatises as a standard Japanese Rinzai Zen has since the Edo period marginalized the sutra based Chan of the Chan Prolegomenon and its successor text the Mind Mirror Zongjinglu of Yongming Yanshou 904-976. This book contains the first in depth treatment in English of the neglected Mind Mirror positioning it as a restatement of Zongmi's work for a Song dynasty audience. The ideas and models of the Chan Prolegomenon often disseminated in East Asia through the conduit of the Mind Mirror were highly influential in the Chan traditions of Song and Ming China, Korea from the late Koryo onward and Kamakura Muromachi Japan. In addition, Tangut language translations of Zongmi's Chan Prolegomenon and Chan Letter constitute the very basis of the Chan tradition of the state of Xixia. As Broughton shows, the sutra based Chan of Zongmi and Yanshou was much more normative in the East Asian world than previously believed and readers who seek a deeper, more complete understanding of the Chan tradition will experience a surprising reorientation in this book.
