Hall's dimensions of time and space and their relevance in professional cultural interaction Katja Hache, 2015-02-04 Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject Communications Intercultural Communication grade 1 7 language English abstract Time and space surround every people all around the world and are taken for granted in everyday life Both are physical quantities which are subject to physical laws These laws are the same anywhere in the world However there is yet another definition of these two concepts The following paper examines the dimensions time and space in a cultural context It describes the approach of Edward T Hall to both dimensions and discusses their relevance in professional cultural interaction The goal is to provide insights into factors influencing cultural behaviour These insights can be useful for any area of a company from leadership to human resources to marketing Beyond Affirmative Action Robert A. Discussion and Contrast of High- and Low-Context Cultures as Defined by E.T. Hall Kathy Brandt, 2021-04-13 Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject Communications Intercultural Communication grade 1 7 AKAD University of Applied Sciences Stuttgart course ICC language English abstract The objective of this assignment is to describe Edward T Hall's model of high and low context cultures and discuss the impact they have on cross cultural business activities There is no better arena for observing culture and communication in action than business where both reveal themselves in situations where there is much at stake and their resources are most needed It is in business a collaborative activity often taking place across global distances where practices are shaped by deeply held cultural attitudes One of the single most useful concepts for understanding cultural differences in business communication is Edward T Hall's distinction of low context and high context cultures Communicating in the Third Space Karin Ika, Gerhard Wagner, 2008-10-05 Communicating in the Third Space aims to clarify Homi K Bhabha's theory of the third space of enunciation by reconstructing its philosophical sociological geographical and political meaning with attention to the special advantages and ambiguities that arise as it is applied in practical as well as theoretical contexts The idea of third space conceives the encounter of two distinct and unequal social groups as taking place in a special third space of enunciation where culture is disseminated and displaced from the interacting groups making way for the invention of a hybrid identity whereby these two groups conceive themselves to partake in a common identity relating to shared space and common dialogue The essays collected in Communicating in the Third Space including a preface by Bhabha himself brilliantly introduce readers to this exciting topic in Cultural and Post Colonial theory and offers insightful elaboration and critique of the meaning and relevance of life in the third space With a preface by Homi K Bhabha
