

BEYOND MS

Get Moving

A woman with dark hair, wearing a blue jacket, is shown from the chest up, looking upwards with her arms raised in a gesture of triumph or joy. She is standing in a field of bright yellow flowers, possibly daisies, under a clear blue sky. The background is slightly blurred, emphasizing the woman and the flowers.

Beyond Liberal Democracy in Schools Barbara J.

Thayer-Bacon, 2008 In this unique union of philosophy and ethnographic research Barbara Thayer Bacon explains how the individualist legacy of liberal democracy as conceived by Locke and Rousseau ignores and excludes the needs of American students raised in cultures with strong communal traditions Drawing upon her experience with the educational methods of other cultures as well as the work of modern educational philosophers such as Dewey Barber Young and Mouffe and Laclau Thayer Bacon shows us how our current vision of the democratic process as revealed in school practices routinely fails minority students She offers recommendations to help us develop learning environments for students that are culturally aware anti racist and relationally focused This radical reimagining of American schools will be beneficial to researchers and practitioners alike This book illustrates how current educational theories marginalize students belonging to a variety of minority populations Native American Mexican American African American offers a new theory of educational philosophy that values both individuals and communities and makes room for emotion and intuition as learning tools and envisions new ways of teaching based on the author's experiences studying and observing schools in other cultures

Beyond the Point Claire Gibson, 2019-04-02 Three women enter the demanding West Point military academy in this inspiring tribute to female friendship and female courage Kate Quinn New York Times bestselling author of The Alice Network Duty Honor Country That's West Point's motto and every cadet who passes through its stone gates vows to live it But on the eve of 9/11 as Dani Hannah and Avery face four grueling years ahead they realize they'll only survive if they do it together With athletic talent and a brilliant mind Dani navigates West Point's predominantly male environment with wit and confidence breaking stereotypes and embracing new friends Hannah's grandfather a legendary Army general warns her about the dangers ahead but she's determined to let faith guide her path and when that path leads to her soul mate the future looks perfect Wild child Avery doesn't mind breaking a few rules or hearts along the way But she can't outpace her self-doubt and the harder she tries the further it leads her down a treacherous path These three women know that what doesn't kill you makes you stronger But soon that adage no longer rings true for their future or their friendship As they're pulled in different directions will their hard-forged bond prevail or shatter
