Jong,2020-02-06 How can we theologically reflect on universality in a world that increasingly focuses on particularities and differences Marijn de Jong argues that the question of universality calls for a reconceptualized form of metaphysical theology which he finds in the work of Karl Rahner and Edward Schillebeeckx Casting a new light on these theologians de Jong demonstrates that their methods contain a dialectical interrelation of hermeneutics and metaphysics an interrelation which seemingly has been lost in more recent hermeneutical theology Rahner and Schillebeeckx carefully balance particularity and universality without falling prey to relativist or absolutist ways of reasoning By analyzing fundamental themes such as experience and interpretation nature and grace faith and reason and intelligibility and mystery de Jong reveals the modest theological metaphysics that lies at the heart of their methods This critical retrieval demonstrates the enduring relevance of these thinkers and opens up new avenues of thought for theologians that do not want to shy away from the difficult question of the universality of God The Reader's Digest DeWitt Wallace,Lila Acheson Wallace,1984 An Illustrated Commentary on the Gospels According to Mark and Luke Lyman Abbott,1877 Introduction to Christian Education Eleanor Ann Daniel,John William Wade,Charles Gresham,1987 Herald of Gospel Liberty Elias Smith,1915 Witty God Thomas Klocke,2016-03-15 Catchy answers to key questions of Christian faith With a pinch of provocation a sprinkle of irony and subtle humor for the searching mind as well as the receptive believer The issues covered include God Jesus Christ the Bible Church and Theology A uniquely presented question and answer game on the essence of Christian faith based on the works of renown modern Protestant and Catholic theologians Attached is a commentary A rewarding and entertaining read Michigan Christian Advocate ,1895
