For example, while the program has been successful in increasing the number of students who graduate from high school, it has also seen a decline in the number of students who enroll in college. This is a concern, as the program's goal is to prepare students for postsecondary education. To address this, the program has implemented a series of initiatives, including providing college counseling and financial aid assistance to students. These efforts are ongoing, and the program remains committed to ensuring that all students have the opportunity to succeed in their postsecondary education.
