

SHARK DISSECTION

Introduction

In this lab we will dissect the dogfish Squalus acanthias. Sharks are very primitive fishes. They have a cartilaginous skeleton, biting jaws and paired appendages. Their skin is tough and leathery, covered with placoid scales.

Sharks belong to the Class Elasmobranchiomorphii (Chondrichyes) of the subphylum Vertebrata. They are commonly referred to as elasmobranchs because of their exposed gill openings.

External Anatomy

The skin of the shark is covered with placoid scales. These scales give the skin a rough "sand-paper" texture.
