Dublin The Making Of A Capital City:

Dublin David Dickson, 2014-11-24 As rich and diverse as its subject Dickson's magisterial history brings 1 400 years of Dublin vividly to life from its medieval incarnation through the neoclassical eighteenth century the Easter Rising that convulsed the city in 1916 the bloody civil war following the handover of power by Britain to end of millennium urban renewal efforts

Dublin's Bourgeois Homes Susan Galavan, 2017-04-28 In 1859 Dubliners strolling along country roads witnessed something new emerging from the green fields The Victorian house had arrived wide red brick structures stood back behind manicured front lawns Over the next forty years an estimated 35 000 of these homes were constructed in the fields surrounding the city The most elaborate were built for Dublin's upper middle classes distinguished by their granite staircases and decorative entrances Today they are some of the Irish capital's most highly valued structures and are protected under strict conservation laws Dublin's Bourgeois Homes is the first in depth analysis of the city's upper middle class houses Focusing on the work of three entrepreneurial developers Susan Galavan follows in their footsteps as they speculated in house building signing leases acquiring plots and sourcing bricks and mortar She analyses a select range of homes in three different districts Ballsbridge Rathgar and Kingstown now Dun Laoghaire exploring their architectural characteristics from external form to plan type and detailing of materials Using measured surveys photographs and contemporary drawings and maps she shows how house design evolved over time as bay windows pushed through fa ades and new lines of coloured brick were introduced Taking the reader behind the fa ades into the interiors she shows how domestic space reflected the lifestyle and aspirations of the Victorian middle classes This analysis of the planning design and execution of Dublin's bourgeois homes is an original contribution to the history of an important city in the British Empire

Irish Medical Education and Student Culture, c.1850-1950 Laura Kelly, 2017-09-15 This book is the first comprehensive history of medical student culture and medical education in Ireland from the middle of the nineteenth century until the 1950s Utilising a variety of rich sources including novels newspapers student magazines doctors memoirs and oral history accounts it examines Irish medical student life and culture incorporating students educational and extra curricular activities at all of the Irish medical schools The book investigates students experiences in the lecture theatre hospital dissecting room and outside their studies such as in digs sporting teams and in student societies illustrating how representations of medical students changed in Ireland over the period and examines the importance of class religious affiliation and the appropriate traits that students were expected to possess It highlights religious divisions as well as the dominance of the middle classes in Irish medical schools while also exploring institutional differences the students decisions to pursue medical education emigration and the experiences of women medical students within a predominantly masculine sphere Through an examination of the history of medical education in Ireland this book builds on our understanding of the Irish medical profession while also contributing to the wider scholarship of student life and culture It will appeal to those interested in the history of medicine the history of education and social history in modern Ireland      Cities Leading Climate Action Sabrina Dekker,2018-09-03 This book provides local governments and interested stakeholders with insights into the challenges and opportunities inherent in addressing climate change Drawing on in depth case study research on Vancouver Portland Glasgow and Dublin Dekker examines the policy development processes employed by urban policy makers to respond to climate change looking specifically at the utilisation of collaborative planning Emerging from the case studies are lessons for local governments in relation to the role of organisational structure in supporting climate leadership the importance of leadership trust relationship building and narratives for supporting ownership of the responses to climate change by stakeholders and the need for creative and innovative public engagement to expand the reach of traditional methods such as social media and other technology based solutions Finally Dekker reflects on her experience in the development of climate change action plans for the Dublin Local Authorities This book will be of great relevance to students scholars and policy makers with an interest in climate change resilience environmental policy and urban planning      Proceedings of the Newcastle-upon-Tyne Conference, 1985 Peter R. Coss,Simon D. Lloyd,1986 Set to become an indispensable series for anyone who wishes to keep abreast of recent work in the field WELSH HISTORY REVIEW      The First Irish Cities David Dickson,2021-01-01 The untold story of a group of Irish cities and their remarkable development before the age of industrialization A backward corner of Europe in 1600 Ireland was transformed during the following centuries This was most evident in the rise of its cities notably Dublin and Cork David Dickson explores ten urban centers and their patterns of physical social and cultural evolution relating this to the legacies of a violent past and he reflects on their subsequent partial eclipse Beautifully illustrated this account reveals how the country's cities were distinctive and through the Irish diaspora influential beyond Ireland's shores      Planning Europe's Capital Cities Thomas Hall,2003-12-16 During the nineteenth century many of Europe's capital cities were subject to major expansion and improvement schemes From Vienna's Ringstrasse to the boulevards of Paris the townscapes which emerged still shape today's cities and are an inalienable part of European cultural heritage In Planning Europe's Capital Cities Thomas Hall examines the planning process in fifteen of those cities and addresses the following questions when and why did planning begin and what problems was it meant to solve who developed the projects and how and who made the decisions what urban ideas are expressed in the projects what were the legal consequences of the plans and how did they actually affect subsequent urban development in the individual cities what similarities or differences can be identified between the various schemes how have such schemes affected the development of urban planning in general His detailed analysis shows us that the capital city projects of the nineteenth century were central to the evolution of modern planning and of far greater impact and importance than the urban theories and experiments of the Utopians      City Tourism Robert Maitland,Brent W. Ritchie,2009 Capital city status attracts and drives tourism by enhancing a city's appeal to the tourist and its international standing With a focus on city tourism themes this book examines subjects including the identity of a city in a tourism context and practical matters such as promoting the city as a product. By examining tourist activities in national capitals the book addresses issues in capital city development as tourist destinations with a broad international approach and case studies on major tourist cities. Moody's Manual of Investments John Sherman Porter, 1921 American government securities 1928 53 in 5 annual vols v 1 Railroad securities 1952 53 Transportation v 2 Industrial securities v 3 Public utility securities v 4 Government securities 1928 54 v 5 Banks insurance companies investment trusts real estate finance and credit companies 1928 54 Bibliographies on European Urban History Walter Prevenier, Peter Stabel, 1996 Moody's Analyses of Railroad Investments, 1921 American government securities 1928 53 in 5 annual vols v 1 Railroad securities 1952 53 Transportation v 2 Industrial securities v 3 Public utility securities v 4 Government securities 1928 54 v 5 Banks insurance companies investment trusts real estate finance and credit companies 1928 54 Shipbuilding and Shipping Record, 1914 Díospóireachtaí Párlaiminte Ireland.
