Christian Work, 1897      Chikombedzi I - A Missionary Wife Writes Home Esther Embree, Paul Embree, 2016-06-24
Dr Paul and Esther Embree have spent their lives in service to the Lord. The two Chikombedzi books tell of their more colorful years as they raised three children and Paul practiced medicine at the remote and primitive Chikombedzi Mission Hospital in the bush of Rhodesia now called Zimbabwe. Chikombedzi I: A missionary wife writes home is the story of their first term of missionary service from 1955 to 1961. It includes medical adventures, elephant chases and a deep faith that brought joy in the midst of a very challenging life.

Kath(e)rina By Eri, Eri, 2005-04-15
All my books are recounts of true happenings. The series The Century Before 2000 focuses on the suffering of certain women and children of that era. Heroines of the last Century selected from specific strata in society portray normal everyday life and trials and tribulations during wartimes. For some plights began before recorded dates of political conflicts and continued in the aftermath. KATH E RINA realistically re-enacts in chronological order what it was like when giant sized bombs rained from the sky and upon impact shook or collapsed buildings, worse trapped women, children and the aging beneath. Sometimes other women came to their rescue, sometimes they couldn't. Seldom the rescuers were trained men in their prime then serving in the military; they were mainly women, often mothers and children or men too old or too young for the armed services. All events in KATH E RINA actually took place, only her name is fictitious. I might point out that geographical orientation matters little when terror, pain, homelessness, hunger and depravation reign. What happened in Germany happened in England, in Poland to some degree throughout Europe and Asia and to this day violence still reigns in many parts of the world. Apparently Earth's inhabitants still haven't learned yet to live peacefully on our beautiful but rapidly shrinking Planet.
