Conrad Kottak Chapter 7:

The Changing Landscape of Work and Family in the American Middle Class Elizabeth Rudd, Lara

Descartes, 2008-01-01 The Changing Landscape of Work and Family in the American Middle Class explores the dynamics of the modern American family and how they have adapted to the changing economy and culture Contributors from a variety of disciplines redefine the concept of the model American family and provide well researched insight into what the new standards for judging family life and its functionality will be

Latin America's Middle Class David Stuart Parker, Louise

E. Walker, 2013-01-01 Designed for classroom use and nonspecialist readers this collection brings together some of the most influential texts ever written about Latin America's middle class

Suitably Modern Mark Liechty, 2020-11-10

Suitably Modern traces the growth of a new middle class in Kathmandu as urban Nepalis harness the modern cultural resources of mass media and consumer goods to build modern identities and pioneer a new sociocultural space in one of the world's least developed countries Since Nepal's opening in the 1950s a new urban population of bureaucrats service personnel small business owners and others have worked to make a space between Kathmandu's old and still privileged elites and its large and growing urban poor Mark Liechty looks at the cultural practices of this new middle class examining such phenomena as cinema and video viewing popular music film magazines local fashion systems and advertising He explores three interactive and mutually constitutive ethnographic terrains a burgeoning local consumer culture a growing mass mediated popular imagination and a recently emerging youth culture He shows how an array of local cultural narratives stories of honor value prestige and piety flow in and around global narratives of progress modernity and consumer fulfillment Urban Nepalis simultaneously adopt and critique these narrative strands braiding them into local middle class cultural life Building on both Marxian and Weberian understandings of class this study moves beyond them to describe the lived experience of middle classness how class is actually produced and reproduced in everyday practice It considers how people speak and act themselves into cultural existence carving out real and conceptual spaces in which to produce class culture

Uncertain

Tastes Jon Holtzman, 2009 This richly drawn ethnography of Samburu cattle herders in northern Kenya examines the effects of an epochal shift in their basic diet from a regimen of milk meat and blood to one of purchased agricultural products In his innovative analysis Jon Holtzman uses food as a way to contextualize and measure the profound changes occurring in Samburu social and material life He shows that if Samburu reaction to the new foods is primarily negative they are referred to disparagingly as gray food and government food it is also deeply ambivalent For example the Samburu attribute a host of social maladies to these dietary changes including selfishness and moral decay Yet because the new foods save lives during famines the same individuals also talk of the triumph of reason over an antiquated culture and speak enthusiastically of a better life where there is less struggle to find food Through detailed analysis of a range of food centered arenas Uncertain Tastes argues that the experience of food itself symbolic sensuous social and material is intrinsically characterized by
