System: The Malaysian Approach Maryam Qays Oleiwi, New Perspectives on Construction in Developing Countries George Ofori, 2012-06-26 Developing countries face the challenge of maintaining economic growth and socio economic development at the core of which sits the construction industry Considerable research on construction in developing countries took place in the 1970 s and 1980 s but little since a gap which this book fills Including contributions from prominent academics and practitioners in Australia China the Netherlands Portugal Singapore South Africa Switzerland and the UK this is a truly international analysis of a subject of global interest The most insightful and relevant of recent research on topics such as Millennium Development Goals the informal construction sector human resource development technology finance and social change are all addressed in the context of the construction industry in the developing world Also considered are other key aspects of construction industry development such as institution building nurturing of contractors and consultants and championing of industry development programmes While the challenge has grown and the needs have become even more pressing the research to date has rarely presented effective solutions Focussing on those aspects of the construction industry most crucial to development this is a much needed up to date study that sheds new light on a variety of concepts and issues This is essential reading for researchers professionals and students interested in the construction industry in developing countries Readers of this book will be interested in its companion volume Contemporary Issues of Construction in Developing Countries Global Warming Ibrahim Dincer, Adnan Midilli, Arif Hepbasli, T. Hikmet Karakoc, 2009-12-03 Global Warming Engineering Solutions goes beyond the discussion of what global warming is and offers complete concrete solutions that can be used to help prevent global warming Innovative engineering solutions are needed to reduce the effects of global warming Discussed here are proposed engineering solutions for reducing global warming resulting from carbon dioxide pollution poor energy and environment policies and emission pollution Solutions discussed include but are not limited to energy conversion technologies and their advantages energy management and conservation energy saving and energy security renewable and sustainable energy technologies emission reduction sustainable
