Architectural Renderings Fabio Schillaci,2010-06-14 The rendering is the most potent means of communicating an architectural design It provides a complete image of a building in its planned setting Unlike a physical or computer model an elevation or plan it speaks in a direct and accessible visual language that will enable any viewer to immediately picture the architect's vision. The potency of the rendering is clearly understood by architects and clients alike. Major architectural practices now commission specialist studios to produce finished renderings of their buildings in order to effectively sell their designs to their clients while clients also invest in renderings to convince the wider public of their vision for large scale architectural projects. Whereas traditionally the rendering was an architectural drawing enlivened by watercolour washes contemporary renderings are produced in a wide range of media and formats with the explicit purpose of visualising and exciting. A stunning visual survey of architectural rendering today that provides in depth profiles of 14 of the top international rendering studios. Features images of landmark buildings such as Foster's British Museum, IM Pei's Pyramid for the Louvre and OMA Rem Koolhaas Central Library for Seattle. Includes architectural designs by high profile practices Asymptote, Jean Nouvel, UN Studio and Zaha Hadid Architects. Supplies key insights into the working methods of specialist rendering studios and their application of manual and digital technologies. Features informative essays by Fabrizio Avella, Professor of Drawing and Measuring and Digital Drafting at the University of Palermo and Augusto Romano Burelli, Dean of the Department of Architecture at the University of Udine. Featured studios: Simon Jones Associates, UK; Lee Dunnette, USA; Dennis Allain, USA; Kirk Fromm, design illustration, USA; ArtandDesign Studios, com, USA; Andy Hickes, Digital Architectural Illustration, USA; LABTOP RENDERING, France; Rendertaxi GbR, Germany; studio amd, painting motion, USA; Federico Pitzalis, Italy; Marco Giovanni De Angelis, Studio Vision Srl, Italy; ArtefactoryLab, France; Pure Germany, Stack Studios Srl, Italy.

Hotel Buildings Manfred Ronstedt, Tobias Frey, 2014. In this handbook on successful hotel planning the authors present an in depth planning aid for the design and construction of hotel property. In doing so the requirements of both hotel operators and planners are considered simultaneously. Hotel Buildings is addressed to architects, interior designers, project managers as well as project developers, property developers and hotel operators. Having implemented their own hotel projects the authors are experts on this building typology. On more than 300 pages they provide valuable advice on avoiding typical planning errors. Accompanied by detailed drawings and explanations this book is a true asset. Checklists for planning, Functional diagrams and floor space requirements, Approaches for cost optimisation, Requirements for safety and hazard management, Glossary and keyword index, Trilingual lexicon on hotel planning.

The Tilt-up Design and Construction Manual Hugh Brooks, 1989-02. Drawings for Architects Natascha Meuser, 2015. The drawing architect for centuries this term was just as tautological as the baking baker or the gardening gardener. Nevertheless in this compendium one has to begin with reference to the fact that the acquisition of drawing skills is by no means a minor field of study for architects. Design methodology also referred to as methodology of space and the representation of the human body plays an important role once more in the present day field of architectural activity. This book explores options for illustration as well as contemporary practice with architectural presentation. It deals with the following topics: The history and theory of architectural drawing covering a wide spectrum of issues in terms of art and architectural history examples are provided by two design collections ten architects present their architectural concepts based on a selection of drawing and presentation techniques ten exercises for freehand drawing demonstrative examples and practical exercises which illustrate technical drawing and the fundamental principles of perspective Architectural Renderings Fabio Schillaci, 2010 Sustainable Building - Design Manual, 2004-01-01 The second volume targets practitioners and focuses on the process of green architecture by combining concepts and technologies with best practices for each integral design component

Architectural Diagrams Miyōng P'yo, 2015 Container and Modular Buildings Cornelia Dörries, 2019-06-30 Prefabricated housing is a pressing issue for those looking for affordable homes as well as for refugees fleeing wars or natural disasters In common with politicians architects were caught unawares by the largest wave of migration since the end of the Second World War However are tent cities and containers the best solution for cheap dignified and quickly assembled accommodation for displaced persons This challenging situation along with the changing urban landscape with its ever diminishing space calls into question existing standards in relation to serial housing Bold and unconventional ideas are called for if architects are to offer high quality solutions From eccentric experiments all the way to projects that have already been realized international design teams present their work between the twin poles of unconventional developments and life saving shelters in this volume spanning more than 250 pages Introduced with articles on design principles and divided into three sections according to the form the structures take when delivered cuboid panels and custom units the book covers everything from playful follies to architectural constructions for the homeless and out patient medical stations which offer a response to social problems and space shortages The text photographs and plans put forward ideas as to how more can be done than the mere assembling of containers Should we not first consider notions bordering on the absurd in order to come up with workable solutions for housing today Construction and Design Manual Sabrina Wilk, 2014-05 Few other professions can match landscape architecture's requirement graphically to represent and communicate so much content and so many ideas From large scale master plans and strategic visions design concepts and outdoor experiences to specific vegetation and precise construction details at some point everything has to be explained on paper This handbook focuses on two areas which even in the age of digital media are still staples of the profession orthographic projections and black line drawings Intended to be both instructional and inspirational this book covers the basics of landscape architectural representation hand drawing and sketching in an easy to understand way encouraging readers to draw their ideas and develop their own graphic language and style Showcased in these pages are many drawings from international landscape architecture offices offering practical guidance and numerous examples in key thematic areas Basics of orthographic and parallel projections Introduction to drawing tools applications and effects Symbols in different scales styles and abstraction levels Constructed and free hand methods for drawing perspectives Basic principles for layout and lettering Drawing in
