Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Children, Schools and Families Committee, 2010 This report considers the roles of a variety of different agents for accountability in the English school system The first part examines self evaluation self improvement partners and local authorities Schools have increasingly been encouraged to formalise the self evaluation process as part of their improvement strategy They are assisted in their self evaluation and improvement processes by School Improvement Partners SIPs who are appointed by the local authority School provision is commissioned by local authorities who also have a remit to monitor local schools performance The report then focuses on the work of Ofsted School inspection reports are a major source of information about a school s performance and inspection is often the trigger for a school to address its performance issues The report then looks at the Achievement and Attainment Tables formerly known as performance tables The tables have been the subject of controversy for many years because although they do not actually rank schools according to their performance in national examinations they permit others especially the media to do so Critics argue that they give only a partial view of a school s overall performance and the proposed School Report Card is an attempt to address this issue by providing more information on a wider range of performance indicators The school accountability process has become very complex with new programmes and policies emerging piecemeal from central government There are concerns about the consistency of approach in such a complex system And are schools really free to drive their own improvement given that they are still subject to programmes devised and applied by central government Secondary

School External Examination Systems Barend Vlaardingerbroek, Neil Taylor, 2009 Summative assessment has been a contentious issue in educational circles for several decades particularly high stakes assessment events which arise at various junctures of the school cycle especially those at the end of it The French Baccalaureat and English A Levels and their numerous clones throughout the francophone and anglophone worlds are household names and represent milestone events in people s lives as their outcomes are principal determinants of young people s future prospects These examinations are external they are devised conducted and processed by agencies outside the schools usually ministerial examination units As such they act as blind arbiters of student achievement providing the proverbial level playing field which ensures the comparability of outcomes In the pyramidal school structures of yesteryear examinations acted as filters regulating the progression of pupils to subsequent tiers of formal education Exit points occurred from primary school level up from where unsuccessful candidates could enter the labour force and or embark on occupationally specific further education and training With the modernisation of the labour market and an ever higher social demand for access to higher levels of formal education the filtering function of examinations at lower levels of schooling has been gradually eroded while burgeoning numbers of students at the upper secondary level have brought about reforms that include curricular diversification and sometimes radical overhauls of terminating assessment systems including the modification and in some instances abandonment of external examinations This edited volume brings together the experiences of twenty examination systems from around the world to show how these dynamic entities have adapted over time to the changing context of schooling Following an introduction by Stephen P Heyneman of World Bank repute there are sixteen chapters presenting Country Case Studies which have been written up under common subheadings thereby highlighting the comparative nature of the work and facilitating cross referencing The subsequent four chapters elaborate on the theme of external examinations beyond national borders including a contribution by the International Baccalaureate Organisation A defining feature of the work is the attention it pays to what it calls the nuts and bolts of external examinations from question setting to grading procedures These are it is argued instrumental in nurturing and maintaining public confidence in external examinations The book will be of immense value to people involved in educational policy studies especially strategic educational planning as well as those directly concerned with formal assessment The work has been written to appeal to a wide audience of informed persons it is accessible to teachers and interested laypeople as well as to academics The Times Index, January -December 2012 ,2012
