

Community Service Reflection

I have participated in several volunteer activities that involve interacting and teaching children. In all three of the service experiences I oversaw students in discussion and learning activities. The first service was teaching young children at 4H day camps. We had several topics for each camp including physical and science related learning objectives. The staff would assist students with art projects and help them to solve games related to information they had just learned. I did these camps for about a week and totaled 15 hours. The second service experience was at the Cookie University event here at DSU. This event allowed me to assist young girl scouts in discussion about basic needs and wants. This let them understand the difference between what is necessary in our lives and what is not. This service totaled to about 6 hours. The third and last service was here in Madison at the Community Center. I volunteered at the After-School Program where I got to interact with and teach young students about games, books, and activities. This is also where I intend to work throughout college. This place is fun, instructive, and a great volunteer experience that I would recommend to anyone looking for volunteer hours. These hours totaled to about 9 and one-half hours.

These experiences have prepared me to be an educator in several different ways. Being with the children and staff at the 4H sponsored events allowed me to be an example to children. I got to show them how we use new information and include it into our everyday lives. We learned about science, bugs, and exercise and why all these things are so important to everyone. You could see the excitement each of these children had while learning. It was like watching a light bulb turn on. I think that interacting with children in environments like this is so important to the growth of a teacher. This early start teaches us to be more patient and understanding. When children stumble on their words, people often like to cut them off, finish their sentence for them, or just become irritated. I find that the more times you put yourself out into the education field and experience things like this, the more often you find yourself being compassionate and more patient. Being in these classrooms has helped my patience so much.

While working at the Cookie University, I got to observe the different ways that children try to assist each other. They were put into groups and had cards with names of basic human needs and everyday wants on them. Together they had to decipher what was most important to bring with them to start a new planet. I heard a lot of discussion about these things and found that many of these kids knew what they were talking about. If one kid said that they shouldn't bring an item, another would give their input and say why it is necessary to bring it. I want to use exercises like these that make children think together and collaborate in my own classroom someday. I want to be able to teach team work, especially to those who do not experience team work on a field or a court.

Meeting the kids at the After-School Program was a real treat. I met some very nice kids and some very sassy kids. Both of which taught me valuable things. I learned different ways to interact with different types of children. I saw that some kids liked to be left alone at times and others could not handle it if your attention was not on them. In my classroom, someday, I hope to get to know my students so well that they trust me with whatever is on their minds. I want to be someone that they can go to if life becomes troubling or they just need a friend. These
