Leaders in Educational Research María de Ibarrola, D.C. Phillips, 2014-11-04 In this volume fourteen fellows of the International Academy of Education whose research work is known internationally reflect upon the ways in which their careers have been shaped by early family influences by random events and surprise opportunities and by nascent intellectual interests and academic mentoring The authors come from many different countries Australia Belgium Cyprus Germany Greece Israel Mexico South Africa and the USA and from a number of disciplinary or intellectual orientations including curriculum development economics educational measurement and statistical analysis history philosophy policy analysis program evaluation psychology and sociology They come from diverse social and cultural backgrounds and in many cases rose above the travails presented by wars social unrest and social injustice to attain an education that launched them eventually into a research career On this path many were unexpectedly assisted by established researchers who served as mentors or enablers Their personal stories then are of broad interest and may even be a source of comfort and inspiration to younger colleagues who are commencing their careers in the international educational research community A Rumour of Spring Max du Preez, 2013-11-27 Democracy in South Africa turns twenty on 27 April 2014 In A Rumour of Spring Max du Preez investigates and analyses the progress and lack of progress the country has made during these twenty years A Rumour of Spring looks at the legacies of Nelson Mandela and Thabo Mbeki in an attempt to understand how we got here and examines Jacob Zuma's presidency to better understand where we are In the context of blatant corruption populism and tragedies such as the Marikana massacre the book considers the current state of the ruling party and the opposition and dissects the big issues currently afflicting our society including the state of education land reform crime and policing the judiciary nationality and race And then with images of the Arab Spring fresh in our collective memory it dares to look to the future and what it may hold An honest and balanced account A Rumour of Spring tackles the questions asked by ordinary South Africans every day How are we really doing What is really going on in our country How should we understand what is happening here And will it get any better Applied Geochemistry in the 1980's Iain Thornton, R. Learning as Development Daniel A. Wagner, 2025-11-25 In this groundbreaking second edition of Learning as Development Daniel A. Wagner transforms our understanding of international development by positioning learning at its core. Through a compelling global lens, Wagner demonstrates how education shapes both individual destinies and national futures with real consequences for income, social mobility, health, and well-being. This new edition provides timely perspectives on education's role in an increasingly interconnected and challenged world. The work traces international development from pre-colonial times to today's learning equity movement, explores how people learn across different cultures and contexts, examines the intersection of education with critical global challenges including climate change, migration, civil conflict, and new technologies, and presents cutting-edge research through vivid, context-rich examples. Essential reading for students, practitioners, and policymakers in education, human development, sociology, anthropology, and global development, Wagner's analysis offers fresh insights into human potential for those who care about improving the lives of people across the globe.
