of theoretical and practical instruments that measure the commercial applicability of artificial intelligence in electronic businesses. First the effectiveness of employing intelligent agents will be measured with a cost benefit analysis to prove whether it is the right thing to do for an electronic business. Second the efficiency of such an application will be assessed with a detailed SWOT Analysis in order to determine whether employed agents do their job right. Finally the results from a range of expert interviews with dominating developers in the field of intelligent systems technology will be integrated into the assessment. Expert interviews as a research method seem to be appropriate for this assessment as they investigate the phenomenon within its real life context. Furthermore they extend experience or add strength to what is already known through previous research. In a final summary and evaluation the answer to the given research question is provided. By the end of the thesis the reader should have gained a strong comprehension of the linkages between electronic commerce and intelligent agents and should understand the resulting implications of the technology's application on electronic businesses.
