Research on Reasoning with Data and Statistical Thinking: International Perspectives Gail F. Burrill, Leandro de Oliveria Souza, Enriqueta

Reston, 2023-07-21 This book is derived from selected papers from the Fourteenth International Congress on Mathematical Education Topic Study Group 12 Teaching and Learning Statistics. It describes recent research on curriculum pedagogy and outreach initiatives from countries as diverse as Brazil, Chile, Columbia, Denmark, Germany, the Netherlands, Spain, Sweden, Thailand, Turkey, the United Kingdom, and the United States. The book has a focus on the use of data in the teaching and learning of statistics across grade levels and begins with an overview of the status of statistics education and the use of data from seven different countries across the continents and the link between research and practice in those countries. Because it contains specific examples of the research, for example, on the ways children learn the choice and implementation of tasks or the role of informal inference, the book will be a great resource to those interested and involved in the teaching of statistics curriculum developers and statistics education researchers. Online interactive resources for asynchronous modality

This study utilized a quasi-experimental method of research employing the use of a non-equivalent control group pretest-posttest design. Two sections of Grade 12 STEM with a total of 47 students participated as research respondents in both the experimental and the control groups. The students answered a 40-item multiple choice questionnaire as a research instrument. The control group was treated with only pure text modules and PowerPoint presentation.
