Elliott State Forest ,2008 Western Snowy Plover Habitat Conservation Plan ,2010 Rogue River-Siskiyou National Forest (N.F.), Eden Ridge Timber Sales, Coos County ,2012 From the Ground Up Alison Sant,2022-01-11

For decades American cities have experimented with ways to remake themselves in response to climate change These efforts often driven by grassroots activism offer valuable lessons for transforming the places we live In From the Ground Up Local Efforts to Create Resilient Cities design expert Alison Sant focuses on the unique ways in which US cities are working to mitigate and adapt to climate change while creating equitable and livable communities She shows how from the ground up we are raising the bar to make cities places in which we don t just survive but where all people have the opportunity to thrive The efforts discussed in the book demonstrate how urban experimentation and community based development are informing long term solutions Sant shows how US cities are reclaiming their streets from cars restoring watersheds growing forests and adapting shorelines to improve people s lives while addressing our changing climate The best examples of this work bring together the energy of community activists the organization of advocacy groups the power of city government and the reach of federal environmental policy Sant presents 12 case studies drawn from research and over 90 interviews with people who are working in these communities to make a difference For example advocacy groups in Washington DC are expanding the urban tree canopy and offering job training in the growing sector of urban forestry In New York transit agencies are working to make streets safer for cyclists and pedestrians while shortening commutes In San Francisco community activists are creating shoreline parks while addressing historic environmental injustice From the Ground Up is a call to action When we make the places we live more climate resilient we need to acknowledge and address the history of social and racial injustice Advocates non profit organizations community based groups and government officials will find examples of how to build alliances to support and embolden this vision together Together we can build cities that will be resilient to the challenges ahead Advancing Knowledge on Cyanobacterial Blooms in Freshwaters Elisabeth (Savi) Vardaka ,Konstantinos Ar. Kormas,2020-11-13 Cyanobacterial blooms are a water quality problem that is widely acknowledged to have detrimental ecological and economic effects in drinking and recreational water supplies and fisheries There is increasing evidence that cyanobacterial blooms have increased globally and are likely to expand in water resources as a result of climate change Of most concern are cyanotoxins along with the mechanisms that induce their release and determine their fate in the aquatic environment These secondary metabolites pose a potential hazard to human health and agricultural and aquaculture products that are intended for animal and human consumption therefore strict and reliable control of cyanotoxins is crucial for assessing risk In this direction a deeper understanding of the mechanisms that determine cyanobacterial bloom structure and toxin production has become the target of management practices This Special Issue entitled Advancing Knowledge on Cyanobacterial Blooms in Freshwaters aims to bring together recent multi and interdisciplinary research from the field to the laboratory and back again driven by working hypotheses based on any aspect of mitigating cyanobacterial blooms from ecological theory to applied research Oregon Administrative Rules Compilation ,2015 Oregon's Agricultural Progress ,2006 Compendium of Forest Hydrology and Geomorphology in British Columbia Robin G. Pike,2010 Forest Science ,2013 Journal of Soil and Water Conservation ,2009 Vol 25 no 1 contains the society s Lincoln Chapter s Resource conservation glossary Environment Reporter ,2001 Oregon DEQ's Strategic Directions : 2006-2011 ,2006 Oregon DEQ Waste Prevention Strategy ,2007 Oregon DEQ ,2009 Materials Management in Oregon ,2019 Ground Water Quality and Riparian Enhancement Projects in Sherman County, Oregon; Coordination and Technical Assistance, 2005-2006 Annual Report Jason Faucera,2006 This project was designed to provide technical assistance and project coordination to producers in Sherman County for on the ground water quality and riparian enhancement projects This is accomplished utilizing the USDA Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program CREP in addition to other grant monies to translate the personnel funds in this project to on the ground projects Two technicians and one watershed council coordinator are funded either wholly or in part by funds from this grant The project area encompasses the whole of Sherman County which is bordered almost entirely by streams providing habitat or migration corridors for endangered fish species including steelhead and Chinook salmon Of those four streams that comprise Sherman County s boundaries three are listed on the DEQ 303 d list of water quality limited streams for exceeding summer temperature limits Only one stream in the interior of Sherman County is 303 d listed for temperatures but is the largest watershed in the County Temperatures in streams are directly affected by the amount of solar radiation allowed to reach the surface of the water Practices designed to improve bank side vegetation such as the CREP program will counteract the solar heating of those water quality listed streams benefiting endangered stocks CREP and water quality projects are promoted and coordinated with local landowners through locally led watershed councils Funding from BPA provides a portion of the salary for a watershed council coordinator who acts to disseminate water quality and USDA program information directly to landowners through watershed council activities The watershed coordinator acts to educate landowners in water quality and riparian management issues and to secure funds for the implementation of on the ground water quality projects Actual project implementation is carried out by the two technicians funded by this project Technicians in Sherman County in cooperation with the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service assist landowners in developing Resource Management Systems RMS that address resource concerns in a specified land unit These RMS plans are developed using a nine step planning process that acts to balance natural resource issues with economic and social needs Soil Water Air Plants Animals and Human resource concerns are the core focus in developing a framework for improving the efficiency and effectiveness of conservation activities in a given planning unit while working within the guidelines set forth by the National Environmental Policy Act NEPA Clean Water Act CWA Endangered Species Act ESA Magnuson Stevens Act MSA National Historic Preservation Act NHPA and other federal state and local laws Implementation of this project has provided technical and implementation assistance for numerous on the ground projects including 119 WASCBS 74 591 feet of terraces 3 spring developments 24 839 feet of riparian or pasture cross fencing 1 072 acres of direct seed trials 14 landowners implementing 34 CREP contracts and the development of 5 additional CREP contracts slated for enrollment at the beginning of FY07 Within the past contract year in Sherman County 1898 3 acres of CREP have been enrolled protecting approximately 52 miles of riparian or intermittent stream channel habitat In addition to the increase in on the ground projects coordination and outreach to solicit conservation projects in Sherman County has increased due to the additional staffing provided by BPA funds As a result there is an abundance of potential conservation projects for water quality and riparian management improvement With the sustained availability of coordination and technical assistance provided through this grant BPA personnel funds will translate to a much higher dollar figure applied on the ground This project has been very successful in keeping up with the demand for conservation projects within Sherman County
