

CHAPTER 5

Merchandising Operations and the Multiple-Step Income Statement

CHAPTER OVERVIEW

Chapter 5 discusses the differences between service firms and merchandising firms. You will learn about the two types of inventory systems used by merchandisers and how to record purchases and sales of inventory using the perpetual inventory system. You'll take a close look at a merchandising firm's financial statements, particularly the income statement, and learn how to compute cost of goods sold under a periodic system. Finally, you will look at factors affecting a firm's profitability and be able to identify a quality of earnings indicator.
