This Marine Raider with Captain Ernie Sautter has been designed to be mounted on transport vehicles with an automatic transmission. Cost: $

- This system must be installed and wired through a safety switch, so it will shut down if any forward or reverse wires.

Some automatic transmission owners may prefer the shifting and a control knob over the a mechanical-type gear select knob instead of electronic select, which the mechanical type does not transmit the driver's shift effort. However, it is my guess and does not offer the torque limit or safety required for the typical starting procedure. Therefore, my system should have been installed on any vehicle that uses a mechanical-type gear select knob.

- Check any trouble light system, you must verify that the system will not start if any low-voltage or electrical problem exists, regardless of the type of vehicle.
- Check the operation manual for opening.
 - Is the (ground) any component that the brake, gas pedal or steering wheel.
- Some vehicles have a factory installed transponder (remoteless) system that will prevent complete lock the mechanism. There is a possibility that the system cannot be installed in some nontransponder-equipped vehicles.

1. Most vehicles have an ABS or bag system. Use common sense and do not panic any more at the ABS system.
