reported to business credit reporting agencies This activity creates your company s credit profile and business credit report After your company has several trade lines reporting a business credit rating score is generated Remember it s important to select vendors and suppliers that report to a business credit reporting agency Each relationship you have also serves as a trade reference that can be used on future credit applications as well Step 5 Monitor Your Business Credit Reports There are three major business credit reporting agencies so it s important to monitor each of your company credit files Each agency collects data from various sources and may have different information about your company The good news is each of the business credit agencies provides a way for you to update basic information about your business If you uncover any outdated or incorrect information you ll want to contact the agency to make the appropriate change With an established business credit report you may get higher credit approvals better interest rates and repayment terms on loans and lines of credit
