Business reports

Reports describe, analyse, and investigate a situation for a particular audience. They have a formal structure and common sub-sections.

Business reports are a type of assignment in which you analyse a situation or problem (either a real situation or a case study) and apply business theories to produce a range of suggestions for improvement.

Business reports are typically assigned to enable you to:

- Examine available and potential solutions to a problem, situation, or issue.
- Apply business and management theory to a practical situation.
- Demonstrate your analytical, reasoning, and evaluation skills in identifying and weighing-up possible solutions and outcomes.
- Reach conclusions about a problem or issue.
- Provide recommendations for future action.
- Show concise and clear communication skills.

Remember that with business reports, typically, there is no single correct answer but several solutions, each with their own costs and benefits to an organisation. It is these costs and benefits which you need to identify and weigh up in your report.

Further, when writing the report, you need to consider the audience you are writing for: is it the CEO or will the report be available to all staff concerned? It is vital that you ensure an appropriate level of formality, sensitivity, fairness, and objectivity. Also, be mindful of the audience when writing recommendations. For example, your manager may not be able to influence company policies.

General format of a business report

Check your assignment instructions regarding which sections you need in your report. Also determine whether you are writing an inductive or deductive report (see page 3).

- 1 Letter or memo to the client
- 2 Title Page
- 3 Executive Summary
- 4 Table of Contents (if required by your lecturer)
- 5 Introduction
- 6 Discussion
- 7 Conclusions
- 8 Recommendations
- 8 References
- 10 Appendices (if required)

There are conventions relating to what goes into each section. The purpose of these conventions is to save the reader's time. If the reader just wants to know what your key findings are, they can turn immediately to the Executive Summary or the Conclusions section.

Effective Business Report Writing Leland Brown,1973 Stress Management Skills Training Course Kathryn Critchley,2010-05

Stress Management Skills Training Course Stress is all around us and affects us all but it isn't the same for everyone and each of us handles it differently One person's challenging pressure is someone else's debilitating stress Techniques that work well for you might not be so effective for me There is no single right answer and that's why we want to help you build your own personal toolbox of stress management skills

Course Overview We start this course by taking an in depth look at stress exactly what it is and how to deal with it We show you how to identify your unhealthy stress and then give you a number of strategies to help you effectively manage and deal with any areas you want to change Remember not all stress is bad some stress is good and can be healthy plus it's often a great motivator Throughout the programme we take a holistic approach to stress management and consider both manager and employee in the workplace as well as how to cope outside work and maintain a healthy work life balance Topics include Identifying and fully understanding what stress is How stress affects our performance physical body and behaviour The importance of becoming aware of stress and then taking responsibility by implementing simple strategies to make desired changes to reduce stress Successful stress management By taking a more personal inward looking approach you can gain far more control and make far more changes than you can by simply waiting and hoping for the world to change around you By the end of this course you'll have a much deeper awareness of how you create your own stress and what you can do about it You'll discover that around 80 per cent of the stress you currently suffer maybe in your head You'll also find out what you can do to change it for good As part of this unique style of training we'll be looking at your beliefs and your own rule structures This will allow you to challenge yourself in a safe environment to really consider whether you need or would like to make a few adjustments to how you think about stress We'll also walk you through easy restructuring and change processes which will allow you to view things differently and start to make deep long lasting changes The course is a little different informal and lots of fun All we ask is that you open your mind take from the course what is right for you and enjoy About the author Kathryn Critchley With over 14 years experience of high pressure sales and management roles in the telecoms industry with organisations such as BT and Orange and over 6 years experience working for the NHS Kathryn understands the dynamics of team building change management employee motivation and organisational productivity She has provided training coaching or therapy for organisations such as the NHS Victim Support and Witness Service Cisco Systems Peugeot British Gas IBM Royal Sun Alliance various councils schools and universities and is also a trainer with the CIPD Kathryn is passionate about helping people make positive changes and achieve their goals She achieves remarkable results through seminars and workshops as well as one to one interventions She has over 12 years experience as a coach therapist and trainer and a wide range of qualifications including Dip Counselling Master NLP Practitioner INLPTA NLP Master Practitioner Cert Hypnotherapy Dip Hypnotherapy Hypnotherapy Master Practitioner Graduate Anthony Robbins Mastery University Dip Stress Management Cert Advanced Transactional Analysis Cert Corporate Consulting Cert Life Coaching Dip Performance Coaching Cert Advanced Life Coaching Cert NLP Life Coaching She has also written Coaching Skills Training Course see www.UoLearn.com In this book she shares some of the knowledge and skills that have helped her to manage her own stress and empowered others to do the same
