Abstract

AutoCAD has been used for decades. Many AutoCAD users still use AutoCAD as a replacement for manual drafting.

There are many new features added in AutoCAD. Combining them all and create a drawing system will maximize team collaboration and ensure standard drawings.

Drawing is not just about how fast you finish it. It is also, about how easy we can modify it during the design process. In addition, how we can make use of the data. We can also create some automation. We can use fields for title blocks. Also creating schedule using data extraction for example.

I hope this eBook can be useful for you who interested in developing drawing system for AutoCAD.
