Developing Leaders At Sandhurst Guide:

The Leadership Hubris Epidemic Peter Garrard, 2017-10-03 This edited collection surveys and analyses the multidimensional problem of Hubris syndrome and its deleterious effect on leadership within organisations. The study develops an extended metaphor of the social and political ill of Hubris as a virulent communicable disease of dysfunctional leadership illustrating its ubiquity and potential for serious harm. Taking a biological perspective to understand the possible underlying mechanisms as well as the environments in which hubris has been found to thrive, contributors emphasise the notion of prevention over cure. Divided into three sections, The Leadership Hubris Epidemic examines psychological, neuroendocrinological and neuropsychological approaches to the biology of Hubris, explores factors that encourage or inhibit its growth and finally provides methods for preventing or retarding its development. This book has huge interdisciplinary appeal and scholars of biology, psychology, sociology, management and politics will find the topic extremely useful, as well as anyone who is interested in the structure and governance of organisations. NL ARMS Netherlands Annual Review of Military Studies 2019 Wim Klinkert, Myriame Bollen, Marenne Jansen, Henk de Jong, Eric-Hans Kramer, Lisette Vos, 2019-07-16 This book has as its subject matter the academic education of officers and builds on the signing of the Bologna Declaration in 1999 by twenty-nine European ministers for Education and Science who thereby agreed to coordinate higher education across Europe by, for instance, the implementation of the Bachelor's and Master's system. In the meantime, military academies have also introduced the BaMa system into their programs for officers' education, which marks a transition from the old days when officers' education took place within a national military system under military command and was firmly grounded in principles, traditions and needs as professed by the Ministries of Defence and the armed forces in particular. So the Bologna Declaration can be seen as crucial leverage for the development of in-house academic degree programs as a fundamental part of officers' education. With this volume, the editors of NL ARMS 2019 strive to offer a platform to both academics and military and civilian practitioners, as well as to combinations of these, to reflect and share their thoughts on officers' education before and after Bologna, both in The Netherlands and abroad. To this end, controversies and challenges affecting various aspects and systems of officers' education have been grouped into five themes. Respectively, the first four themes comprise institutional settings and change, educational philosophy, educational challenges and reflective practices, and didactical solutions. The fifth theme, international perspectives, provides insights into the strategic environments and challenges faced by sister academies, as well as ways to further officers' education across Europe, such as offered by Erasmus programs. All the editors of this year's volume are affiliated with the Faculty of Military Sciences of the Netherlands Defence Academy in Breda, The Netherlands.

Employer Brand Management Richard Mosley, 2014-08-21 Attract, recruit and retain the very best with a strategic employer brand. From one of the world's leading pioneers in the employer brand discipline and author of the first book on the subject, The Employer Brand, comes the long-awaited practical follow-up, Employer Brand Management.

Talented motivated employees are a company's best assets and the techniques in this book help attract recruit and retain the very best. A successful employer brand reaches beyond the boardroom to establish confidence, loyalty and enthusiasm all the way down the ladder. Employer Brand Management gives readers a personal grasp of a new approach to people management. It draws on significant advances in practices among leading companies to provide a handbook for employer brand development and implementation. With a wide range of case studies and examples you'll be taken step by step through the employer brand development process. You will find information on the latest developments in technology with particular attention paid to socially enabled recruitment, marketing and employee communication and engagement. You will follow the process of brand planning, definition, implementation and application. Discover how brand thinking can strengthen strategy and reinforce HR value. Improve existing recruitment and talent management programs. Learn the importance of employee engagement in the brand experience.

Invisible Scars Meghan Fitzpatrick, 2017-07-25 The Korean War 1950-53 was a ferocious and brutal conflict that produced over four million casualties in the span of three short years. Despite this it remains relatively absent from most accounts of mental health and war trauma. Invisible Scars provides the first extended exploration of Commonwealth Division psychiatry during the Korean War and examines the psychiatric care systems in place for the thousands of soldiers who fought in that conflict. Fitzpatrick demonstrates that although Commonwealth forces were generally successful in returning psychologically traumatized servicemen to duty and fostering good morale, they failed to compensate or support in a meaningful way veterans returning to civilian life. This book offers an intimate look into the history of psychological trauma. In addition, it engages with current disability pensions and compensation issues that remain hotly contested and reflects on the power of commemoration in the healing process.

Developing Public Service Leaders Mike Wallace, Michael Reed, Dermot O'Reilly, Michael Tomlinson, Jonathan Morris, Rosemary Deem, 2022-10-17 Developing Public Service Leaders examines why and how governments and representative bodies in public service organizations have mounted major interventions over the last two decades to develop senior staff as leaders. A critical explanation is developed of the foundational contribution made by national leadership development interventions in the 2000s to the emergence, proliferation and normalization of leadership development provision. Through carrying out qualitative research in England, the authors investigate the national leadership development interventions for school education, healthcare and higher education. Whilst also looking at the contemporary legacy of these interventions within a global scale, examining the growing international movement and comparing interventions across the world. The book looks at new ways to approach leadership development, adopting a novel perspective on leadership as a metaphorical concept and coining the concept of leaderism and exploring how, although senior staff may be widely acculturated as leaders, they may not necessarily be committed to acting as government change agents. Leadership development makes a diffuse contribution towards the ongoing neoliberalization of public services. Developing Public Service Leaders is a comprehensive and essential read for a researcher or policymaker.
