Sustainable Urbanism in China explores the notion of Sustainable Urbanism by considering the role sustainable neighborhood planning plays in the larger picture of sustainable urbanism and suggests innovations and best practices that are either developed or adopted by China. These are narrated as lessons learnt for other countries where we see similar trends of development patterns or emerging practices. Through various explorations of challenges, paradigms and innovations of urban sustainability, this book highlights how planning policy and design are forming and reforming in the context of China. These are offered through a set of guidelines and pathways for urban sustainability at the scale of neighborhoods, communities or districts in a wider context of urban environments as well as strategies for planners, developers, policy makers and educators in the field of the built environment. Through a comprehensive overview of urban sustainability practices in China, this book investigates 12 case study projects. These comprehensive explorations should in turn help construct the future directions of China's sustainable urban development and provide innovative pathways of sustainable urbanism in China and around the globe.

Enabling Eco-Cities Dominique Hes, Judy Bush, 2018-02-27. Cities are striving to become more resilient, adaptive and sustainable. This requires new ways of governing and developing the city. This book features chapters by researchers using regenerative development and transitions theories to envisage how Eco Cities could be planned, designed and created and concludes with practical tools and an outline of how this evolution could be facilitated. It examines two major questions: How can we use understandings of Eco Cities to address the legacy of urban built form and existing practices which often make it difficult to create the systemic changes needed? And what are the elements of complex urban places and spaces that will enable the planning, creation and evolution of thriving cities? The book will appeal to planners, city makers, urban researchers, students and practitioners including planners, designers, architects and sustainability managers and all those seeking to envisage the steps along the path to thriving cities of the future.
