Tru-economics

Economics is the study of financial choices. Grab some coloring materials, read each statement below and color the circle GREEN if the information is accurate. If the statement is false, color it RED and write the correct answer.

The word economics is derived from the Greek word 'oikonomia' which means government management.

Economics is part of our day-to-day activities. Earning money and purchasing products are examples of it.

Economics is not a social science.

Adam Smith is the Father of Modern Economics.

Economics does not follow a logical process.

According to the principles of economics, people do not face trade-offs.
