Parental, child, and environmental characteristics are attributed to the predisposing factors of maltreatment.

Several specific types of behaviors are considered maltreatment of children.

All children can experience maltreatment regardless of economic and educational backgrounds and racial/ethnic/religious groups.

Underlying PrinciplesTypes of Maltreatment:

- Physical: causing pain or harm to a child
- Sexual: occurring when sexual contact takes place without consent, whether or not the victim is able to give consent.
- Emotional: humiliating, threatening, or intimidating a child
- Neglect: failure to provide physical or emotional care.

Providing physical care to a child involves feeding, clothing, shelter, medical or dental care, safety, and education.

Providing emotional care to a child involves stimulation to foster normal development, such as nurturing, affection, and attention

Risk factors for maltreatment include caregiver characteristics, characteristics of the child, and environmental characteristics.

Signs of physical abuse include burns, fractures, lacerations, multiple fractures at different stages of healing, and the fear of parents.

Nursing Interventions

WHO? WHEN? WHY? HOW?

Identify abuse as soon as possible; conduct detailed history and physical examination.

The nursing priority is to have the child removed from the abusive situation.

Assess the mechanism of injury, which might not be congruent with the injury's physical appearance.

Observe for burns that appear glove- or stocking-like on hands or feet, which can indicate forced immersion into boiling water. Small, round burns can be caused by lit cigarettes. Document detailed descriptions of all findings.

Check the child for head injuries, assess LOC, and assess reactivity of pupils. Monitor for nausea and vomiting.
