CONCEPT PAPER

Subject: LS 314 (Language Planning)
Submitted to: Dr. Faith Miguel
Submitted by: Edgar R. Eslit

Introduction

Language planning is a deliberate effort to influence the function, structure, or acquisition of languages or language variety within a speech community. It is often associated with government planning, but is also used by a variety of non-governmental organizations, such as grass-roots organizations and even individuals. The goals of language planning differ depending on the nation or organization, but generally include making planning decisions and possibly changes for the benefit of communication. Planning or improving effective communication can also lead to other social changes such as language shift or assimilation, thereby providing another motivation to plan the structure, function and acquisition of languages (Ogbu, 1987). In this concept paper, the author will look into different international studies that have strongly validated the superiority of employing the mother-tongue or first language for enhancing learning outcomes and in promoting Education for all (EFA).

It is through language that we develop our thoughts, shape our experience, explore our customs, structure our community, construct our laws, articulate our values and give expression to our hopes and ideas. 'Mother Tongue is a common language that is freely and comfortably spoken by adult generation both at home and outside to their successors in a community and reflect one's culture and ethnic backgrounds'¹. It is the means by which different groups within the society maintain their identities. They do this by using the language in a way which is characteristic of their group and by which they can be identified. Within a multicultural society such as the Philippines there exist many subgroups that express their distinctiveness by particular forms of language freely and commonly used in their communities.

Innovative Strategies for Accelerated Human Resources Development in South Asia Asian Development Bank, 2017-12-01 South Asia remains one of the fastest growing regions in the world but concerns are rising that its workforce lacks the skills and education to drive its economy into the 21st century Providing access to quality education and skills training is now a priority of policymakers in the region But even though government spending on education has increased significantly in recent years it has not resulted in effective education outcomes This report is one in a series of four publications that examines how education and training systems in the region can be improved In particular it looks at the role that the private sector can play in improving standards through investments in education and training

Integrating Services in South Asia Rupa Chanda, 2010-12-01 In this era of globalization every region and country in the world is pursuing some kind of integration to further its economic geo political and strategic interests This book explores the prospects for and challenges to services integration in South Asia through an in depth analysis of services such as telecommunications energy tourism health and education Identifying trends in performance policy issues and the status of intra regional trade and investment initiatives the book argues the case for services integration under the South Asian Free Trade Area SAFTA It also stresses the need to address cross cutting issues of regional mobility of service providers taxes transport trade research and development and regulatory cooperation Expanding the existing work on South Asian integration to cover services from an intra regional perspective this book is an important reference for future academic and policy work in South Asia The industry country and regional level statistics provided by the book serve as a useful resource for taking stock of output employment trade and investment in services in this region

The Future of Large Dams Thayer Ted Scudder, 2012-04-27 Viewed by some as symbols of progress and by others as inherently flawed large dams remain one of the most contentious development issues on Earth Building on the work of the now defunct World Commission on Dams Thayer Scudder wades into the debate with unprecedented authority Employing the Commission s Seven Strategic priorities Scudder charts the middle way forward by examining the impacts of large dams on ecosystems societies and political economies He also analyses the structure of the decision making process for water resource development and tackles the highly contentious issue of dam induced resettlement illuminated by a statistical analysis of 50 cases

Hydropolitics in the Developing World Anthony Turton,Roland Henwood,2002 Bringing contributions by a variety of authors together in one volume is part of an attempt to show that hydropolitics is a growing discipline in its own right The prevailing definition of hydropolitics is widened to include the elements of scale and range This is illustrated through a focus on theoretical and legal issues case studies from Southern Africa and a proposed research agenda The book is an important addition to the literature on hydropolitics Working Paper Robert N. Kearney,Barbara D. Miller,1984 Federalism in South Asia Mahendra Prasad Singh, Veena Kukreja,2014-08-07 This book is one of the first in depth and systematic studies on the functioning and aspiring federations of South Asia It examines how federal dynamics in India Pakistan Nepal and Sri Lanka are impinged on by the nature of their specific constitutions their societal political and cultural fabrics composition of power elites and ruling classes structures of political economy and market electoral and party systems mass media and information technology The authors offer a comparative analytical conceptual and theoretical framework to understand patterns and trends as also experiences of and possibilities for federalism in South Asia They highlight divergences and similarities successes and key challenges while indicating federalism s wider regional relevance in the discourse on democracy and governance The book concludes that the multicultural character of these societies beset with ethnic and regional conflicts separatist and military undercurrents makes federal political solutions the only viable route Providing a wealth of material this will deeply interest scholars students and teachers of comparative politics political science federal studies area studies as well as those interested in political structures and processes in South Asia The Human Right to Water Inga Winkler,2014-08-14 The United Nations General Assembly and the Human Rights Council recognised the human right to water in 2010 This formal recognition has put the issue high on the international agenda but by itself leaves many questions unanswered This book addresses this gap and clarifies the legal status and meaning of the right to water through a detailed analysis of its legal foundations legal nature normative content and corresponding State obligations The human right to water has wide ranging implications for the distribution of water Examining these implications requires putting the right to water into the broader context of different water uses and analysing the linkages and competition with other human rights that depend on water for their realisation Water allocation is a highly political issue reflecting societal power relations with current priorities often benefitting the well off and powerful Human rights in contrast require prioritising the most basic needs of all people The human right to water has the potential to address these underlying structural causes of the lack of access to water rooted in inequalities and poverty by empowering people to hold the State accountable to live up to its human rights obligations and to demand that their basic needs are met with priority Sri Lanka Ketheshwaran
