

7 Reasons All Kids Must Learn Personal Finance

1

Lifetime of Financial Independence

When children grow up imbibing healthy financial practices from an early age, they make good financial choices as adults. This helps them enjoy a lifetime of financial independence.

2

Any Skill is Easier to Learn as a Kid

Whether it is learning to ride a bike or money management, all life skills are way less intimidating when learned as a kid.

3

Distinguish Between Needs and Wants from a Young Age

Learning to differentiate between needs and wants makes kids become more aware of their choices from a very young age - which helps them avoid unnecessary expenses as adults.

4

Never too Early to Learn About Saving and Investing

While concepts like saving and investing may seem too abstract or daunting to teach a kid, it is surprisingly easy for them to grasp these concepts from a very young age.

5

Benefit from the Magical Power of Compounding

It is essential to teach kids how their money can exponentially grow thanks to the power of compounding, so they can take advantage of this starting early in life.

7

Start Retirement Planning From the First Paycheck

Financially savvy kids understand that the sooner they start planning for their retirement, the faster they can grow their nest egg and maximize their returns.

6

Understand the Importance of Opportunity Cost

Kids need to be taught that every financial decision has an opportunity cost, since money is a limited resource. This will help them make smart money choices.
