Jackson, 2021-02-01 Drawing upon the theoretical frameworks of Beauboeuf Lafontant 2002 Collins 2009 Crenshaw 1991 and Dillard 2012 this volume makes a case for centering the voices and experiences of Black women in the protection and educational uplift of Black children While examinations of how Black educators articulate and enact a need to protect Black students from racialized harm exist McKinney de Royston et al 2020 this book is a collection of autoethnographic narratives from Black mother educators who work at the intersections of their personal and professional identities to protect Black children Intersectionality allows us to look at the nexus of our identities in regards to race gender and occupation as Black women and educators Our goal for this volume was to bring together scholars who can support theorizing the intersectionality of our identities as Black mothers and educators particularly its influence on our pedagogical practices and the safekeeping of Black children This volume explicates stories of motherwork from Black mother educators whose professional spaces span K 12 to higher education contexts Collectivity this volume expounds upon the dimension of protector within the literature on Black women teachers Class, Trauma, Identity Giorgos Bithymitris, 2023-04-14 This book is a dialectic and multi perspective examination of classed traumas in late modernity The primary anchoring question is whether and how class becomes a condition of possibility for coping with traumas What does it mean to experience deindustrialization crises or domestic violence from a specific class position Do the coping mechanisms differ along the lines of class gender race age or ethnicity The text negotiates such questions travelling back and forth from psychoanalysis to sociology and from the global to the local while critically engaging with memories narratives and myths engraved into social and personal histories Through a dialogic quest for what is silenced and what is salient within oral written and visual testimonies it foregrounds what the upper classes prefer to neglect the traumatizing core of the new class divide Rather than idealizing or vilifying the dominated this study calls for an exploration of practices narrations and spaces whereby alienation and integration co exist antagonistically producing hybrid and fragmented but also potentially transformative subjectivities This book will be of interest to scholars of humanities and social sciences primarily for those studying social stratification and inequalities sociology of emotions identity theory trauma and memory political psychoanalysis labour history and ethnography

Noun phrases in early Germanic languages Kristin Bech, Alexander Pfaff, 2024-03-01 On the premise that syntactic variation is constrained by factors that may not always be immediately obvious this volume explores various perspectives on the nominal syntax in the early Germanic languages and the syntactic diversity they display The fact that these languages are relatively well attested and documented allows for individual cases studies as well as comparative studies Due to their well observable common ancestry at the time of their earliest attestations they moreover permit close up comparative investigations into closely related languages Besides the purely empirical aspects the volume also explores the methodological side of diagnosing classifying and documenting the details of syntactic diversity The volume starts with a description by Alexander Pfaff and Gerlof Bouma of the principles underlying the Noun Phrases in Early Germanic Languages NPEGL database before Alexander Pfaff presents the Patternization method for measuring syntactic diversity Kristin Bech Hannah Booth Kersti B rjars Tine Breban Svetlana Petrova and George Walkden carry out a pilot study of noun phrase variation in Old English Old High German Old Icelandic and Old Saxon Kristin Bech then considers the development of Old English noun phrases with quantifiers meaning many Alexandra Rehn s study is concerned with the inflection of stacked adjectives in Old High German and Alemannic Old High German is also the topic of Svetlana Petrova s study which looks at inflectional patterns of attributive adjectives With Hannah Booth s contribution we move to Old Icelandic and the use of the proprial article as a topic management device Juliane Tiemann investigates adjective position in Old Norwegian Alexander Pfaff and George Walkden then take a broader view of adjectival articles in early Germanic before Alexander Pfaff rounds off the volume with a study of a peculiar class of adjectives the so called positional predicates which occur across the early Germanic languages
