Hands-on Software Architecture Soo Dong Kim, Mira Kim, 2025-12-22 This book presents the Unified Architecture Process UAP a comprehensive and methodologically rigorous framework designed specifically for addressing the challenges encountered in modern industrial software systems The book is structured into three main parts Part I Overview of Software Architecture introduces foundational principles and outlines the Unified Architecture Process UAP as the core methodological framework Part II Guidelines for the Unified Architecture Process provides detailed instructions for implementing each UAP activity step and task supported by rationales templates examples and checklists Each chapter in this part corresponds to a specific activity defined in the UAP and the chapter titles are aligned with the activity names specified in the process Part III Resources for Software Architecture Design offers two categories of indispensable resources including a catalog of over 30 representative architecture styles With more than 190 illustrative figures the book delivers practical insights into software architecture design To facilitate skill development and mastery of the UAP the text includes 140 carefully crafted exercises promoting hands on learning and reinforcing conceptual understanding Combining academic rigor with practical applicability this book equips students and professionals with structured methodologies and thorough guidance A companion website further enhances the learning experience providing downloadable architecture templates case studies and additional supplementary materials

Objects, Agents, and Features Mark Ryan, John-Jules Ch. Meyer, Hans-Dieter Ehrich, 2004-11-11 In recent years concepts in object oriented modeling and programming have been extended in several directions giving rise to new paradigms such as age orientation and feature orientation This volume came out of a Dagstuhl seminar exploring the relationship between the original paradigm and the two new ones Following the success of the seminar the idea emerged to edit a volume with contributions from participants including those who were invited but could not come The participants reaction was very positive and so we the organizers of the seminar felt encouraged to edit this volume All submissions were properly refereed resulting in the present selection of high quality papers in between the topics of objects agents and features The editors got help from a number of additional reviewers viz Peter Ahlbrecht Daniel Amyot Lynne Blair Jan Broersen Mehdi Dastani Virginia Dignum Dimitar Guelev Benjamin Hirsch Maik Kollmann Alice Miller Stephan Rei Marganec Javier Vazquez Salceda and Gerard Vreeswijk Finally we would like to take this opportunity to thank all the persons involved in the realization of the seminar and this book attendees authors reviewers and last but not least the staff from Schloss has since 1995 provided a forum for academic and industrial researchers and practitioners to discuss the application of natural language to both the development and use of software applications

The use of natural language in relation to software has contributed to improving the development of software from the viewpoints of both the developers and the users Developers benefit from improvements in conceptual modeling software validation natural language program specifications and many other areas Users benefit from increased usability of applications through natural language query interfaces semantic webs text summarizations etc The integration of natural language and information systems has been a search objective for a long time now Today the goal of good integration seems not so far fetched This is due mainly to the rapid progress of research in natural language and to the development of new and powerful technologies

Designing with Blends Manuel Imaz,David Benyon,2007 How recent research in cognitive science offers new ways to understand the interaction of people and computers and develops a new literacy for well informed sensitive software design The evolution of the concept of mind in cognitive science over the past 25 years creates new ways to think about the interaction of people and computers New ideas about embodiment metaphor as a fundamental cognitive process and conceptual integration a blending of older concepts that gives rise to new emergent properties have become increasingly important in software engineering SE and human computer interaction HCI If once computing was based on algorithms mathematical theories and formal notations now the use of stories metaphors and blends can contribute to well informed sensitive software design In Designing with Blends Manuel Imaz and David Benyon show how these new metaphors and concepts of mind allow us to discover new aspects of HCI SE After 60 years digital technology has come of age but software design has not kept pace with technological sophistication people struggle to understand and use their computers cameras phones and other devices Imaz and Benyon argue that the dominance of digital media in our lives demands changes in HCI SE based on advances in cognitive science The idea of embodied cognition they contend can change the way we approach design by emphasizing the figurative nature of interaction Imaz and Benyon offer both theoretical grounding and practical examples that illustrate the advantages of applying cognitive concepts to software design A new view of cognition they argue will develop a cognitive literacy in software and interaction design that helps designers understand the opportunities of digital technology and provides people with a more satisfying interactive experience Baltimore and Ohio Employes Magazine ,1948
