Derwing, Murray J. Munro, 2015-07-15 The emergence of empirical approaches to L2 pronunciation research and teaching is a powerful fourth wave in the history of the field Authored by two leading proponents of evidence based instruction this volume surveys both foundational and cutting edge empirical work and pinpoints its ramifications for pedagogy The authors begin by tracing the history of pronunciation instruction and explicating L2 phonetic learning processes Subsequent chapters explore the themes strengths and ethical problems of the field through the lens of the intelligibility principle The importance of error gravity and the need for assessment and individualized instruction are highlighted and the role of L2 accents in social contexts is probed Material readily available elsewhere has been omitted in favour of an emphasis on the how why and when of pronunciation instruction Anyone with an interest in L2 pronunciation especially graduate students language teachers and experienced researchers will find much value in this indispensable resource Clear Speech from the Start Student's Book with Audio CD Judy B. Gilbert, 2005-02-21 Practice exercises to be used in conjunction with the accompanying audio cd Pronunciation Myths Linda Grant, Donna Brinton, 2014-02-21 This volume was conceived as a best practices resource for pronunciation and speaking teachers in the way that Vocabulary Myths by Keith S Folse is one for reading and vocabulary teachers Like others in the Myths series this book combines research with good pedagogical practices The book opens with a Prologue by Linda Grant author of the Well Said textbook series which reviews the last four decades of pronunciation teaching the differences between accent and intelligibility the rudiments of the English sound system and other factors related to the ways that pronunciation is learned and taught The myths challenged in this book are Once you've been speaking a second language for years it's too late to change your pronunciation Derwing and Munro Pronunciation instruction is not appropriate for beginning level learners Zielinski and Yates Pronunciation teaching has to establish in the minds of language learners a set of distinct consonant and vowel sounds Field Intonation is hard to teach Gilbert Students would make better progress if they just practiced more Grant Accent reduction and pronunciation instruction are the same thing Thomson Teacher training programs provide adequate preparation in how to teach pronunciation Murphy The book concludes with an Epilogue by Donna M Brinton who synthesizes some of the best practices explored in the volume Clear Speech Malcolm MORRISON, 1989 Auditory Processing Disorders Donna Geffner, Deborah Ross-Swain, 2018-01-31 Auditory Processing Disorders Assessment Management and Treatment Third Edition details the definition behaviors and comorbidities of auditory processing disorders while educating the reader on the most current practices for audiological and speech language assessment of APD including its impact on literacy and language processing Practical rehabilitation management strategies and direct evidence based treatment programs including the use of technology are covered in detail Auditory Processing

Disorders is a highly practical book designed specifically for practicing clinicians and instructors both audiologists and speech language pathologists. It contains a comprehensive review of APD and is an excellent resource for upper level audiology students and for educated parents, teachers, and other professionals wishing to learn more about APD for themselves, their child, and their practice. The third edition includes a global perspective of auditory processing, including the latest in evidence-based treatment programs. Content has been edited to be more concise and user-friendly for increased readability and comprehension. Contributions are from the field's most recognized experts such as Gail Chermak, Frank Musiek, Jack Katz, Harvey Dillon, Gail Richards, and Teri Bellis. NEW TO THIS EDITION: New chapters address neurological brain damage and its impact on auditory processing; psychiatric disorders associated with auditory processing; the impact of otitis media on auditory processing skills; and new methods for diagnosing APD. A new chapter on psychological testing and what psychologists contribute to the battery of testing diagnosis and knowledge base of APD endorsing intraprofessional collaboration. A new chapter on an evidence-based program known as CAPDOTS from Carol Lau in Vancouver with data to support its use in deficit-specific remediation. An updated chapter from Nina Kraus and her laboratory colleagues at Brain Vols, Northwestern University with a new perspective on categorizing and assessing APD. Updated chapters reflect the current research on AN, AD, and the newest relevant tests for the SLP to administer when screening for APD and treating the phonological aspects of the disorder. ASHA expert Janet McCarty presents information and advice on private third-party payors and government agencies for coding and reimbursement. Updated images of new FM systems and apps for treatment. New and updated resources such as web links, references, technology, and apps. Disclaimer: Please note that ancillary content such as documents, audio, and video, etc., may not be included as published in the original print version of this book.

Clear Speech from the Start: Teacher's Resource Book with CD Judy B. Gilbert, 2001-05-14

Clear Speech from the Start concentrates on basic pronunciation and listening comprehension in North American English, stressing features that will have the most significant impact on a student's ability to understand and communicate with others. These features include rhythm, stress, intonation, and speech sounds that carry specific grammatical meaning. The text presents these features through kinesthetic exercises and visual and auditory modeling, thus making them accessible even to beginners. Each Student's Book comes with a student Audio CD that contains roughly one-third of the exercises included in the class audio program.
