

Pomeroy Case 4.2 Connie

1. At this point of the interview, I'm considering Bipolar disorder. I would like to know about any more symptoms Connie is experiencing. I would also like to get a better understanding of her support system and perhaps learn the viewpoints of Connie's situation or their observations of her behavior. Learning of her family's mental health history may be helpful as well to get a better understanding of the biological factors.
2. After Connie's recount of her childhood and description of her family of origin, I doubt her father would be a part of her support system. Because she seems to get along with her mother, I believe she may be willing to support Connie. To maximize support, Connie could reach out to her siblings, as she has a substantial amount of them.
3. Exploring the issue of a lack of local support, I would encourage Connie to find ways to socialize more. I would suggest that she becomes acquainted with neighbors and others from Southfork. I would also suggest that she locate local social outlets that she could explore. She can find nearby organizations or classes to join in her free time.
4. My primary diagnosis: Moderate Bipolar II Disorder F.31.81, Most recent episode Depressed (Hospitalized months ago as a result)
 - A. Criteria have been met for at least one hypomanic episode (Criteria A-F under Hypomanic Episode) and at least one major depressive episode (Criteria A-C under Major Depressive Episode)
 - B. There has never been a manic episode.
 - C. The occurrence of the hypomanic episode(s) and major depressive episode(s) is not better explained by schizoaffective disorder, schizophrenia, schizophreniform disorder, delusional disorder, or other specified or unspecified schizophrenia spectrum and other psychotic disorder.
 - D. The symptoms of depression or the unpredictability caused by frequent alternation between periods of depression and hypomania causes clinically significant distress or impairment in social, occupational, or other important areas of functioning. – Connie reports to alternate between feelings of depression and elevated moods, the depressive episodes lasting longer. It caused clinically significant distress when the symptoms were so severe that she had to be hospitalized for it.
5. The specifiers I would use in this case are : Most recent episode depressed, and Depressive episode with mixed features (Experienced brief periods of hypomanic symptoms between the depressive episodes)
6. Psychosocial factors that may impact the diagnosis:
 - Parent-Child Relational Problem Z.62.820- Connie feels anger towards her father, as a result of her relationship with him during her upbringing. She reported that he was distant and authoritarian.
 - Personal history (past history) of physical abuse in childhood Z.62.810 – Connie shares that her father administered harsh punishments, especially when addressing her specificallyRegarding cultural factors, Connie comes from a Catholic family. Culture could be a negative factor in this case because of the religious beliefs toward mental illness, as well as treatment for mental illness. Every religion typically has its own implications on mental health/illness. This could affect Connie's access to support. She's shared that her father is opposed to seeking treatment, believing that only "crazy people" see psychiatrists. While she seems to have a better relationship with her mother, she may also
