Class Lives Stories From Across Our Economic Divide:

Class Lives Chuck Collins, Jennifer Ladd, Maynard Seider, Felice Yeskel, 2014-12-18 Class Lives is an anthology of narratives dramatizing the lived experience of class in America. It includes forty original essays from authors who represent a range of classes, genders, races, ethnicities, ages, and occupations across the United States. Born into poverty, working class, the middle class, and the owning class, and every place in between, the contributors describe their class journeys in narrative form, recounting one or two key stories that illustrate their growing awareness of class and their place changing or stable within the class system. The stories in Class Lives are both gripping and moving. One contributor grows up in hunger, and as an adult becomes an advocate for the poor and homeless. Another acknowledges the truth that her working class father's achievements afforded her and the rest of the family access to people with power. A gifted child from a working class home soon understands that intelligence is a commodity but finds his background incompatible with his aspirations and so attempts to divide his life into separate worlds. Together, these essays form a powerful narrative about the experience of class and the importance of learning about classism, class cultures, and the intersections of class, race, and gender. Class Lives will be a helpful resource for students, teachers, sociologists, diversity trainers, activists, and a general audience. It will leave readers with an appreciation of the poignancy and power of class and the journeys that Americans grapple with on a daily basis.

Class Lives: Stories from Across Our Economic Divide Jennifer Ladd, Debunking the Myth of Job Fit in Higher Education and Student Affairs Brian J. Reece, Vu T. Tran, Elliott N. DeVore, Gabby Porcaro, 2023-07-03 Co-published with This groundbreaking book examines a concept that has gone unexamined for too long. The concept of job fit in the student affairs profession. Fit is a term used by nearly everyone in student affairs throughout the hiring process, from search committees and hiring managers to supervisors and HR professionals. This book opens a conversation about the use of job fit as a tool for exclusion that needs to be critically investigated from multiple standpoints. This edited collection brings together a number of voices to look at the issues involved through various lenses to explore the ways policies, procedures, environments, and cultural norms provide inequitable job search experiences for individuals from various marginalized groups. These include looking at the legal aspects, employer definitions, communication barriers, as well as scholarly, personal narratives looking at the concept from the perspective of class, race, gender, and sexual orientation. Emerging from the Commission for Social Justice of ACPA, the personal narratives and critical explorations in this book are an attempt to provide graduate students and professionals with a resource that is relevant to the job search in an increasingly competitive job market while taking into account the complex realities of their identities. The normative assumptions of fit are analyzed by the authors to make visible the barriers those assumptions create for those with non-dominant identities. The student affairs profession strives for inclusion and acceptance as a core value and an essential competency. The profession has made progress in the way it serves students, but there is a disconnect between the conversation about students and the way those same values play out in the treatment of practitioners and scholars in the field This book aims to help job seekers looking to evaluate fit in their current and possible future positions as well as hiring managers who face challenges in creating equitable hiring processes Challenging the norms and rhetoric about job fit in student affairs means that scholars and practitioners alike must be able to incorporate this topic explicitly into various aspects of the profession Narratives of Marginalized Identities in Higher Education Santosh Khadka, Joanna Davis-McElligatt, Keith Dorwick, 2018-07-27 This book features theorized narratives from academics who inhabit marginalized identity positions including among others academics with non normative genders sexualities and relationships nontenured faculty racial and ethnic minorities scholars with HIV depression and anxiety and other disabilities immigrants and international students and poor and working class faculty and students The chapters in this volume explore the ways in which marginalized identities fundamentally shape and impact the academic experience thus the contributors in this collection demonstrate how academic outsiderism works both within the confines of their college or university systems and a broader matrix of community state and international relations With an emphasis on the inherent intersectionality of identity positions this book addresses the broad matrix of ways academics navigate their particular locations as marginalized subjects Mapping Inequality in an Era of Neoliberalism Stephen Valocchi, 2024-09-20 Offering a unique comprehensive and critical introduction to increasingly visible social inequalities this textbook examines the political and economic causes and cultural consequences of a stratifying system that allocates material resources and human dignity on the basis of private profit and labor exploitation Mapping Inequality in an Era of Neoliberalism foregrounds capitalism as the major source of the power relations in the United States as a class system that serves the dominant vector of inequality and sets the parameters of social mobility The book starts with racialized capitalist power and shows how this power is constituted in structures of opportunity and constraint It also uses ethnographic accounts to flip the script to show how individuals in the class structure construct identities Providing students with tools for understanding Valocchi engagingly introduces many of the crucial concepts in this area of sociology power opportunity structures ideology social and cultural capitals and intersectional class identities connecting them as part of a uniquely critical approach Narratives on Becoming Emilie Clucas Leaderman, Jennifer S.
