Teaching Mathematics Using Interactive Mapping Sandra L.

Arlinghaus, Joseph J. Kerski, William C. Arlinghaus, 2023-12-11 Teaching Mathematics Using Interactive Mapping offers novel ways to learn basic math topics such as simple relational measures or measuring hierarchies through customized interactive mapping activities. These activities focus on interactive web-based Geographic Information System (GIS) and are relevant to today's problems and challenges. Written in a guided hands-on understandable manner, all activities are designed to build practical and problem-solving skills that rest on mathematical principles and move students from thinking about maps as references that focus solely on where is something to analytical tools focusing primarily on the whys of where. Success with this transition through interaction permits most readers to master mathematical concepts and GIS tools.

FEATURES Offers custom-designed geographical activities to fit with specific mathematical topics. Helps students become comfortable using mathematics in a variety of professions. Provides an innovative, engaging and practical set of activities to ease readers through typically difficult, often elementary mathematical topics: fractions, the distributive law, and much more. Uses web-based GIS maps, apps, and other tools and data that can be accessed on any device anywhere at any time, requiring no prior GIS background. Written by experienced teachers and researchers with lifelong experience in teaching mathematics, geography, and spatial analysis. Features an accompanying Solution Guide available on the book's product page that is beneficial for instructors, students, and other readers as an aid to gauging progress. This textbook applies to undergraduate and graduate students in universities and community colleges, including those in basic mathematics courses as well as upper-level undergraduate and graduate students taking courses in geographic information systems, remote sensing, photogrammetry, geography, geodesy, information science, engineering, and geology.
